ELECTION IN CHICAGO

JUDGE DUNNE, THE DEMOCRATIC
CANDIDATE, WINS MAYOR-
ALTY CONTEST.

FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

CITY COMMITTED TO SPEEDY AC-
QUIREMENT OF STREET CAR
FRANCHISES, ETC.

Chicago, April 5.—A political tornado during the day overwhelmed one of the most ruggedly unique leaders in the country. Incidentally the Republican party met defeat in a memorable effort to capture the mayoralty of Chicago. As a direct result the city is officially committed to the policy of the quickest possible cessation of private franchises for public utilities. Municipal ownership is especially threatening street car lines, valued high up in the millions. After winning successively four remarkable biennial fights of Independents against the regular Republican party organization here, John Haynard Harlan, son of Associate Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court, was finally the loser as Republican candidate for mayor. His defeat is attributed to an extraordinary whirl of causes, starting with political revenge and taking in a wide sweep embracing the most up-to-date Socialism as a factor. The victor is Edward F. Dunne, Democrat.

Seldom, if ever, has Chicago witnessed a more lively, picturesque contest. The city was hideous with the ringing of cowbells and the roar of cannon crackers.

The Republican candidate suffered heavily from campaign attacks charging that he was a political assassin.

Deposed Leaders Against Harlan.

Alleged unworthy leaders of his own party who had been thrust from office and power largely through Harlan's aggressiveness in previous political campaigns were conspicuously absent from his support. The result was painfully evident before the balloting had been in progress one hour.

It was a raw, blustering day, gloomy and cold for the most part until about an hour before the close of the voting. The sunburst then was not hailed joyfully by the Republicans, who felt that even in the matter of weather the party had been unfavored.

Appeals to fear of domination by corporate wealth appeared to sway voters and perhaps more than any other influence was incorrectly gauged by the Republicans. Harlan had been savagely harassed during the campaign as the reputed representative of Wall street interests intent upon fastening burdensome franchise grants upon the city. Prohibitionists also worked against Harlan, as did the negroes, who were partial to Dunne on account of his fair treatment of the colored race in court.

One of the amusing features in urging Judge Dunne's election is his record as a father. He is the happy father of ten children.

The campaign was enlivened by "Pop" Anson, who has almost as meritorious a record as a father. The old time hero of baseball was the Democratic candidate for clerk of court. His popular personality was beyond doubt a potent help to the Democrats who seemed to hugly appreciate his campaign statistics designed to prove that the Democracy, at least in Chicago, are the original and only genuine opponents of race suicide.

Favored Republican Candidate.

First returns from the elections came from Mr. Harlan's home ward, adjacent to the aristocratic Lake Shore drive. The figures favored the Republican candidate, notwithstanding that the ward is the residence of Mayor Carter H. Harrison, Dem., who carried the ward in the last municipal election. Soon, however, the Democratic sections began to be heard from. Dunne was soon in the lead and was never overtaken. The plurality for Dunne, Dem., was estimated at between 22,000 and 25,000 votes over Harlan. In the city election two years ago, Harrison, Dem., defeated Stewart, Rep., by 7,660 plurality. The city, however, was carried by the Republicans in the presidential election last fall by a heavy plurality.

When asked for his opinion as to the cause of his defeat, Mr. Harlan said:

"The people of Chicago became infatuated with the idea of immediate municipal ownership and the majority of them cast their votes that way."

"Party lines and politics were forgotten," said Judge Dunne. "Municipal ownership was the one great issue before the people of Chicago and the returns at hand show very plainly how the majority of the people of Chicago feel toward the private ownership of public utilities. It is the greatest victory for public ownership ever won in this country.

"Every pledge I made during the campaign will be solemnly kept. Chicago wants municipal ownership and during my tenure of office it will be my aim to bring about such a condition as rapidly as possible."

Judge Dunne was elected by a plurality of 24,248 and received a majority of 945 of all the votes cast. He also had the distinction of receiving the greatest vote ever cast in Chicago for a candidate for the office of mayor. He was given 161,659 votes out of a total of 322,373. Mr. Harlan received 137,411.

John F. Smulski, Republican candidate for city attorney, was re-elected. The other candidates on the Democratic city ticket were elected by pluralities somewhat smaller than Judge Dunne. Frederick W. Block was elected city treasurer and Adrian C. Anson city clerk. The new city council will probably be Republican.

The entire Independent municipal ticket in East St. Louis, headed by Mayor Silas Cook, was successful. G. W. McCaskerlin, Independent, was elected mayor of Rock Island. In Quincy, J. A. Steintsach, Dem., was elected mayor for the sixth term.

In the city election in Springfield the Democrats made a clean sweep.

CARY AGAIN ELECTED.

Wisconsin State Superintendent of Schools Succeeds Himself.

Milwaukee, April 5.—Election returns received from various parts of the state up to midnight indicate that Charles P. Cary, the present state superintendent of schools, has been re-elected over Albert Salisbury by a safe majority. Superintendent Cary's friends in Madison made a statement late at night that he was re-elected over Salisbury by a vote of 2 to 1. Mr. Salisbury telephoned from White-water that he was receiving favorable reports but could not make a prediction. A light vote was polled. Quite a number of women took advantage of their right of suffrage on school matters.

Paul D. Carpenter was re-elected probate judge in Milwaukee county over Emil Wallber. Lawrence W. Halsey is re-elected over F. C. Eschweiler and William B. Rubin for judge of the circuit court, branch No. 1, and Warren D. Tarrant and John C. Ludwig were re-elected as judges of branches No. 2 and 4, respectively, of the circuit court, Second judicial district, without opposition.

John B. Winslow had no opposition as justice of the supreme court.

The following cities elected Republican mayors: Racine, Whitewater, Sparta, Oshkosh, Fox Lake and Viroqua.

The following cities elected Democratic mayors: Berlin, La Crosse, Monroe.

The following places voted for license: Lake Mills, Ripon, Dartford, Waupaca, Viroqua, Thorpe, Milton, Milton Junction, Beloit, Whitewater, Delavan and Lake Geneva.

The following voted for no license: Clinton, Stoughton, Elkhorn and Barron.

Citizens' tickets carried in Kewaskum and Palmyra.

CLOSE RACE AT ST. LOUIS.

Democratic Mayor Has Slight Lead Over Republican Candidate.

St. Louis, April 5.—With 100 precincts missing out of a total of 495, Mayor Wells, Dem., nominee for reelection, is leading John A. Talty, Rep., by 774. The returns for 305 precincts give Wells, 33,719; Talty, 32,945; Lee Meriwether, Ind., Public Ownership, 2,239.

From present indications this will be the most closely contested election in the history of the city and neither side is claiming the victory by more than 1,000 plurality.

Elections were held in many cities and towns in Missouri. In most instances the contests were local in nature and party lines were not distinctly drawn. In Jefferson City, Henry J. Wallu, Dem., was elected mayor and the entire Democratic ticket was elected. A sweeping victory over the Socialists for the citizens' ticket, nominated by the joint Republican and Democratic conventions, resulted in Sedalia.

ELECTIONS IN MINNESOTA.

Several Cities and Towns Chose Officers.

St. Paul, April 5.—Municipal elections were held in several cities and towns in this state during the day. Mayor C. T. Taylor, Dem., was re-elected mayor of Mankato. J. H. Termath was elected mayor of Le Sueur. L. Hirsch mayor of Pipestone. E. A. Brown mayor of Luverne. Charles Gall, Dem., mayor of Hastings. F. R. Glotsbach, Dem., mayor of Faribault. Complete returns elect J. A. Laich, Rep., mayor of Winona, instead of William Rademacher, Dem.

The Results in Kansas.

Kansas City, Kan., April 5.—Elections were held in the larger cities of Kansas during the day. The Democrats carried Kansas City and Leavenworth, this being a revolution and entirely unlooked for in each case. Topeka and Wichita elected the Republican ticket.

TO KILL A GOVERNOR

INSANE MAN WANTED TO END
LIFE OF THE CHIEF EXECU-TIVE OF KANSAS.

ENEMY OF SELF-MADE MEN

LUNATIC SAYS THAT IS WHY HE WISHED TO CLOSE THE CA-REER OF MR. HOCH.

Topeka, Kan., April 5.—An insane man, who gives his name as J. Everett Worthington, whose former place of residence the police have been unable to learn, was captured Monday within a block of the state house, where he said he was going to kill Governor E. W. Hoch. The man was unarmed, but he is of a powerful build and undoubtedly would have handled the chief executive roughly had he not been intercepted. The news of the capture was withheld for a day by the police.

Worthington is now in the county jail and will be sent to an asylum.

Communication with him is held by means of written questions and answers, as he pretends to be deaf and dumb. In answer to a question in regard to what his purpose was with the governor Worthington said:

"I was inspired by Pyrus, the god of fire, to come here and kill Governor Hoch. I have sworn eternal vengeance against all statesmen who pretend that they are self-made men. If it had not been for this officer who captured me, Governor Hoch would have been no more, for I was on my way to the capitol to kill him when I was arrested. One who has risen from obscurity to a high place is the worst enemy of the impetuous gentleman. Therefore, I hate Hoch."

ASSUMES NEW PHASE.

Fight in Equitable Assurance Society Still Being Waged.

New York, April 5.—The fight in the Equitable Life Assurance society assumed a new phase during the evening when several letters that heretofore have been carefully kept secret were made public. Further interest was aroused by a persistent report, emanating from an apparently reliable source, and so far not denied, that Vice President Hyde and his friends in the society had decided to assume the aggressive. According to the report, the Hyde party will force James W. Alexander and Gage E. Tarbell to retire from the presidency and second vice presidency, respectively, of the society at the meeting of the board of directors to be held next Thursday.

This report was strengthened by the fact that both parties to the controversy gave out certain letters and statements, bearing on the questions in dispute. Mr. Hyde's contribution was the letter which he wrote to the Equitable directors on Feb. 15, when the fight for mutualization first came officially before the board. At that time the letter was carefully guarded and only its general tenor was allowed to become known. The letter is a lengthy history of the Equitable and Mr. Hyde's position under the terms of his father's bequests, and in it Mr. Hyde formally charges President Alexander with "gross breach of trust to my father and me."

ASKS STAY OF SENTENCE.

Mrs. Chadwick's Counsel Appeals to Federal Circuit Court of Appeals.

Cincinnati, April 5.—Judge Francis J. Wing, counsel for Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick of Cleveland, appeared before Judges Lorton, Severance and Richards in the United States circuit court of appeals in this city during the day and moved that her sentence be stayed until the United States circuit court of appeals shall have heard her appeal or until final judgment be rendered in the court of last resort. United States District Attorney John J. Sullivan, also of Cleveland, was present during the hearing of the motion as the representative of the government. After hearing the motion Presiding Judge Lorton announced that the court will take the matter under consideration and will render an opinion during the morning.

Mrs. Chadwick's attorney, Ex-Judge Wing, maintains that his filing of the writ of error suspends the sentence already imposed without the formality of asking a suspension. If the judges of the court of appeals decide that the filing of the writ of error in itself acts as a suspension of the sentence Mrs. Chadwick may be permitted to remain in the jail at Cleveland until judgment is passed upon her by the court of last resort, to which her case may be carried.

Old Roosevelt Home to Be Sold.

Little Boy Burned to Death.

Atlanta, Ill., April 5.—The four-year-old son of Frank Maupin was burned to death during the day in a fire which destroyed a carpenter shop. The father was fatally burned trying to rescue his son from the flames.

EARTHQUAKE IN INDIA.

Several Casualties Reported and Much Property Damaged.

Mussoree, India, April 5.—A succession of earthquake shocks was experienced here during the day, commencing at 6:10 a. m. The first was the most severe and continuous for three minutes and during that time it was impossible for a person to stand without support.

Eleven shocks were distinctly felt. Considerable damage was done to property. Every house in the place was more or less damaged. There were many small land slides. The earth cracked in five places. Several casualties are reported. One woman was killed and several natives were seriously injured.

ELECTION IN CHICAGO

JUDGE DUNNE, THE DEMOCRATIC
CANDIDATE, WINS MAYOR-

FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Mr. Harlan received 137,411.

John F. Smulski, Republican candidate for city attorney, was re-elected. The other candidates on the Democratic city ticket were elected by pluralities somewhat smaller than Judge Dunne. Frederick W. Blocki was elected city treasurer and Adrian C. Anson city clerk. The new city council will probably be Republican.

The entire independent municipal ticket in East St. Louis, headed by Mayor Silas Cook, was successful. G. W. McCaskerlin, Independent, was elected mayor of Rock Island. In Quincy, J. A. Steintsach, Dem., was elected mayor for the sixth term. In the city election in Springfield the Democrats made a clean sweep.

CARY AGAIN ELECTED.

Wisconsin State Superintendent of Schools Succeeds Himself.

Milwaukee, April 5.—Election returns received from various parts of the state up to midnight indicate that Charles P. Cary, the present state superintendent of schools, has been re-elected over Albert Salisbury by a safe majority. Superintendent Cary's friends in Madison made a statement late at night that he was re-elected over Salisbury by a vote of 2 to 1. Mr. Salisbury telephoned from White-water that he was receiving favorable reports but could not make a prediction. A light vote was polled. Quite a number of women took advantage of their right of suffrage on school matters.

Paul D. Carpenter was re-elected probate judge in Milwaukee county over Emil Walther. Lawrence W. Halsey is re-elected over F. C. Eschweiler and William B. Rubin for judge of the circuit court, branch No. 1, and Warren D. Tarrant and John C. Ludwig were re-elected as judges of branches No. 2 and 4, respectively, of the circuit court, Second judicial district, without opposition.

John B. Winslow had no opposition as justice of the supreme court.

The following cities elected Republican mayors: Racine, Whitewater, Sparta, Oshkosh, Fox Lake and Viroqua.

The following cities elected Democratic mayors: Berlin, La Crosse, Monroe.

The following places voted for license: Lake Mills, Ripon, Dartford, Waupaca, Viroqua, Thorpe, Milton, Milton Junction, Beloit, Whitewater, Delavan and Lake Geneva.

The following voted for no license: Clinton, Stoughton, Elkhorn and Barron.

Citizens' tickets carried in Kewaskum and Palmyra.

CLOSE RACE AT ST. LOUIS.

Democratic Mayor Has Slight Lead
Over Republican Candidate.

St. Louis, April 5.—With 100 precincts missing out of a total of 405, Mayor Wells, Dem., nominee for reelection, is leading John A. Talty, Rep., by 774. The returns for 305 precincts give Wells, 33,719; Talty, 32,945; Lee Meriwether, Ind., Public Ownership, 2,239.

From present indications this will be the most closely contested election in the history of the city and neither side is claiming the victory by more than 1,000 plurality.

Elections were held in many cities and towns in Missouri. In most instances the contests were local in nature and party lines were not distinctly drawn. In Jefferson City, Henry J. Wallu, Dem., was elected mayor and the entire Democratic ticket was elected. A sweeping victory over the Socialists for the citizens' ticket, nominated by the joint Republican and Democratic conventions, resulted in Sedalia.

ELECTIONS IN MINNESOTA.

Several Cities and Towns Chose Officers.

St. Paul, April 5.—Municipal elections were held in several cities and towns in this state during the day. Mayor C. T. Taylor, Dem., was re-elected mayor of Mankato. J. H. Termath was elected mayor of Le Sueur. L. Hirschy mayor of Pipestone. E. A. Brown mayor of Luverne. Charles Gall, Dem., mayor of Hastings. F. R. Glotsbach, Dem., mayor of Faribault. Complete returns elect J. A. Lalsch, Rep., mayor of Winona, instead of William Rademacher, Dem.

The Results in Kansas.

Kansas City, Kan., April 5.—Elections were held in the larger cities of Kansas during the day. The Democrats carried Kansas City and Leavenworth, this being a revolution and entirely unlooked for in each case. Topeka and Wichita elected the Republican ticket.

The news of the capture was withheld for a day by the police.

Worthington is now in the county jail and will be sent to an asylum.

Communication with him is held by means of written questions and answers, as he pretends to be deaf and dumb. In answer to a question in regard to what his purpose was with the governor Worthington said:

"I was inspired by Pyrus, the god of fire, to come here and kill Governor Hoch. I have sworn eternal vengeance against all statesmen who pretend that they are self-made men. If it had not been for this officer who captured me, Governor Hoch would have been no more, for I was on my way to the capitol to kill him when I was arrested. One who has risen from obscurity to a high place is the worst enemy of the impecunious gentee. Therefore, I hate Hoch."

ASSUMES NEW PHASE.

Fight in Equitable Assurance Society
Still Being Waged.

New York, April 5.—The fight in the Equitable Life Assurance society assumed a new phase during the evening when several letters that heretofore have been carefully kept secret were made public. Further interest was aroused by a persistent report, emanating from an apparently reliable source, and so far not denied, that Vice President Hyde and his friends in the society had decided to assume the aggressive. According to the report, the Hyde party will force James W. Alexander and Gage E. Tarbell to retire from the presidency and second vice presidency, respectively, of the society at the meeting of the board of directors to be held next Thursday.

This report was strengthened by the fact that both parties to the controversy gave out certain letters and statements, bearing on the questions in dispute. Mr. Hyde's contribution was the letter which he wrote to the Equitable directors on Feb. 15, when the fight for mutualization first came officially before the board. At that time the letter was carefully guarded and only its general tenor was allowed to become known. The letter is a lengthy history of the Equitable and Mr. Hyde's position under the terms of his father's bequests, and in it Mr. Hyde formally charges President Alexander with "gross breach of trust to my father and me."

ASKS STAY OF SENTENCE.

Mrs. Chadwick's Counsel Appeals to Federal Circuit Court of Appeals.

Cincinnati, April 5.—Judge Francis J. Wing, counsel for Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick of Cleveland, appeared before Judges Lorton, Severance and Richards in the United States circuit court of appeals in this city during the day and moved that her sentence be stayed until the United States circuit court of appeals shall have heard her appeal or until final judgment be rendered in the court of last resort. United States District Attorney John J. Sullivan, also of Cleveland, was present during the hearing of the motion as the representative of the government. After hearing the motion Presiding Judge Lorton announced that the court will take the matter under consideration and will render an opinion during the morning.

Mrs. Chadwick's attorney, Ex-Judge Wing, maintains that his filing of the writ of error suspends the sentence already imposed without the formality of asking a suspension. If the judges of the court of appeals decide that the filing of the writ of error in itself acts as a suspension of the sentence Mrs. Chadwick may be permitted to remain in the jail at Cleveland until judgment is passed upon her by the court of last resort, to which her case may be carried.

ELECTION IN CHICAGO

JUDGE DUNNE, THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE, WINS MAYORALTY CONTEST.

FOR MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

CITY COMMITTED TO SPEEDY ACQUISITION OF STREET CAR FRANCHISES, ETC.

Chicago, April 5.—A political tornado during the day overwhelmed one of the most ruggedly unique leaders in the country. Incidentally the Republican party met defeat in a memorable effort to capture the mayoralty of Chicago. As a direct result the city is officially committed to the policy of the quickest possible cessation of private franchises for public utilities. Municipal ownership is especially threatening street car lines, valued high up in the millions. After winning successively four remarkable biennial fights of independents against the regular Republican party organization here, John Haynard Harlan, son of Associate Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court, was finally the loser as Republican candidate for mayor. His defeat is attributed to an extraordinary whirl of causes, starting with political revenge and taking in a wide sweep embracing the most up-to-date Socialism as a factor. The victor is Edward F. Dunne, Democrat.

Seldom, if ever, has Chicago witnessed a more lively, picturesque contest. The city was hideous with the ringing of cowbells and the roar of cannon crackers.

Deposed Leaders Against Harlan.

Alleged unworthy leaders of his own party who had been thrust from office and power largely through Harlan's aggressiveness in previous political campaigns were conspicuously absent from his support. The result was painfully evident before the balloting had been in progress one hour. It was a raw, blustering day, gloomy and cold for the most part until about an hour before the close of the voting. The sunburst then was not hailed joyfully by the Republicans, who felt that even in the matter of weather the party had been unfavored.

Appeals to fear of domination by corporate wealth appeared to sway voters and perhaps more than any other influence was incorrectly gauged by the Republicans. Harlan had been savagely harassed during the campaign as the reputed representative of Wall street interests intent upon fastening burdensome franchise grants upon the city. Prohibitionists also worked against Harlan, as did the negroes, who were partial to Dunne on account of his fair treatment of the colored race in court.

One of the amusing features in urging Judge Dunne's election is his record as a father. He is the happy father of ten children.

The campaign was enlivened by "Pop" Anson, who has almost as meritorious a record as a father. The old time hero of baseball was the Democratic candidate for clerk of court. His popular personality was beyond doubt a potent help to the Democrats who seemed to hugly appreciate his campaign statistics designed to prove that the Democracy, at least in Chicago, are the original and only genuine opponents of race suicide.

Favored Republican Candidate.

First returns from the elections came from Mr. Harlan's home ward, adjacent to the aristocratic Lake Shore drive. The figures favored the Republican candidate, notwithstanding that the ward is the residence of Mayor Carter H. Harrison, Dem., who carried the ward in the last municipal election. Soon, however, the Democratic sections began to be heard from. Dunne was soon in the lead and was never overtaken. The plurality for Dunne, Dem., was estimated at between 22,000 and 25,000 votes over Harlan. In the city election two years ago, Harrison, Dem., defeated Stewart, Rep., by 7,660 plurality. The city, however, was carried by the Republicans in the presidential election last fall by a heavy plurality.

When asked for his opinion as to the cause of his defeat, Mr. Harlan said:

"The people of Chicago became infatuated with the idea of immediate municipal ownership and the majority of them cast their votes that way."

"Party lines and politics were forgotten," said Judge Dunne. "Municipal ownership was the one great issue before the people of Chicago and the returns at hand show very plainly how the majority of the people of Chicago feel toward the private ownership of public utilities. It is the greatest victory for public ownership ever won in this country.

"Every pledge I made during the campaign will be solemnly kept. Chicago wants municipal ownership and during my tenure of office it will be my aim to bring about such a condition as rapidly as possible."

Judge Dunne was elected by a plurality of 24,248 and received a majority of 945 of all the votes cast. He also had the distinction of receiving the greatest vote ever cast in Chicago for a candidate for the office of mayor. He was given 161,659 votes out of a total of 322,373. Mr. Harlan received 137,111.

John F. Smulski, Republican candidate for city attorney, was re-elected. The other candidates on the Democratic city ticket were elected by pluralities somewhat smaller than Judge Dunne. Frederick W. Blocki was elected city treasurer and Adrian C. Anson city clerk. The new city council will probably be Republican.

The entire independent municipal ticket in East St. Louis, headed by Mayor Silas Cook, was successful. G. W. McCaskerlin, Independent, was elected mayor of Rock Island. In Quincy, J. A. Steintsach, Dem., was elected mayor for the sixth term.

In the city election in Springfield the Democrats made a clean sweep.

CARY AGAIN ELECTED.

Wisconsin State Superintendent of Schools Succeeds Himself.

Milwaukee, April 5.—Election returns received from various parts of the state up to midnight indicate that Charles P. Cary, the present state superintendent of schools, has been re-elected over Albert Salisbury by a safe majority. Superintendent Cary's friends in Madison made a statement late at night that he was re-elected over Salisbury by a vote of 2 to 1. Mr. Salisbury telephoned from White-water that he was receiving favorable reports but could not make a prediction. A light vote was polled. Quite a number of women took advantage of their right of suffrage on school matters.

Paul D. Carpenter was re-elected probate judge in Milwaukee county over Emil Wallber. Lawrence W. Halsey is re-elected over F. C. Eschweiler and William B. Rubin for judge of the circuit court, branch No. 1, and Warren D. Tarrant and John C. Ludwig were re-elected as judges of branches No. 2 and 4, respectively, of the circuit court, Second judicial district, without opposition.

John B. Winslow had no opposition as justice of the supreme court. The following cities elected Republican mayors: Racine, Whitewater, Sparta, Oshkosh, Fox Lake and Viroqua.

The following cities elected Democratic mayors: Berlin, La Crosse, Monroe.

The following places voted for license: Lake Mills, Ripon, Dartford, Waupaca, Viroqua, Thorpe, Milton, Milton Junction, Beloit, Whitewater, Delavan and Lake Geneva.

The following voted for no license: Clinton, Stoughton, Elkhorn and Barron.

Citizens' tickets carried in Kewaskum and Palmyra.

CLOSE RACE AT ST. LOUIS.

Democratic Mayor Has Slight Lead Over Republican Candidate.

St. Louis, April 5.—With 100 precincts missing out of a total of 405, Mayor Wells, Dem., nominee for reelection, is leading John A. Talty, Rep., by 774. The returns for 305 precincts give Wells, 33,719; Talty, 32,945; Lee Meriwether, Ind., Public Ownership, 2,239.

From present indications this will be the most closely contested election in the history of the city and neither side is claiming the victory by more than 1,000 plurality.

Elections were held in many cities and towns in Missouri. In most instances the contests were local in nature and party lines were not distinctly drawn. In Jefferson City, Henry J. Wallu, Dem., was elected mayor and the entire Democratic ticket was elected. A sweeping victory over the Socialists for the citizens' ticket, nominated by the joint Republican and Democratic conventions, resulted in Sedalia.

ELECTIONS IN MINNESOTA.

Several Cities and Towns Chose Officers.

St. Paul, April 5.—Municipal elections were held in several cities and towns in this state during the day. Mayor C. T. Taylor, Dem., was re-elected mayor of Mankato. J. H. Termath was elected mayor of Le Sueur. L. Hirsch may of Pipestone. E. A. Brown mayor of Luverne. Charles Gail, Dem., mayor of Hastings. F. R. Glotsbach, Dem., mayor of Faribault. Complete returns elect J. A. Lalsch, Rep., mayor of Winona. Instead of William Rademacher, Dem.

The Results in Kansas.

Kansas City, Kan., April 5.—Elections were held in the larger cities of Kansas during the day. The Democrats carried Kansas City and Leavenworth, this being a revolution and entirely unlooked for in each case. Topeka and Wichita elected the Republican ticket.

TO KILL A GOVERNOR

INSANE MAN WANTED TO END LIFE OF THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF KANSAS.

ENEMY OF SELF-MADE MEN

LUNATIC SAYS THAT IS WHY HE WISHED TO CLOSE THE CAREER OF MR. HOCH.

Topeka, Kan., April 5.—An insane man, who gives his name as J. Everett Worthington, whose former place of residence the police have been unable to learn, was captured Monday within a block of the state house, where he said he was going to kill Governor E. W. Hoch. The man was unarmed, but he is of a powerful build and undoubtedly would have handled the chief executive roughly had he not been intercepted. The news of the capture was withheld for a day by the police.

Worthington is now in the county jail and will be sent to an asylum.

Communication with him is held by means of written questions and answers, as he pretends to be deaf and dumb. In answer to a question in regard to what his purpose was with the governor Worthington said:

"I was inspired by Pyrus, the god of fire, to come here and kill Governor Hoch. I have sworn eternal vengeance against all statesmen who pretend that they are self-made men. #### ASKS STAY OF SENTENCE.

Mrs. Chadwick's Counsel Appeals to Federal Circuit Court of Appeals.

Cincinnati, April 5.—Judge Francis J. Wing, counsel for Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick of Cleveland, appeared before Judges Lurton, Severance and Richards in the United States circuit court of appeals in this city during the day and moved that her sentence be stayed until the United States circuit court of appeals shall have heard her appeal or until final judgment be rendered in the court of last resort. United States District Attorney John J. Sullivan, also of Cleveland, was present during the hearing of the motion as the representative of the government. After hearing the motion Presiding Judge Lurton announced that the court will take the matter under consideration and will render an opinion during the morning.

Mrs. Chadwick's attorney, Ex-Judge Wing, maintains that his filing of the writ of error suspends the sentence already imposed without the formality of asking a suspension. If the judges of the court of appeals decide that the filing of the writ of error in itself acts as a suspension of the sentence Mrs. Chadwick may be permitted to remain in the jail at Cleveland until judgment is passed upon her by the court of last resort, to which her case may be carried.

The Aitkin Age takes the merchants of that town to task on the question of mail order houses, the Age having received in a business way two advertisements from institutions of this kind which were inserted in its columns at regular rates which led the home merchant to call on the editor and enter a protest which gave Editor Hollister the opening he was looking for, and he put it up to his home dealers in this way: "We are going to leave out these mail order ads just this week, and if our local merchants want the space they shall have the first chance (and they always have had it), but if they don't want it, we are not going to refuse out of town ads. They pay us our price and will buy all the space we have to sell." Furthermore the Age man cites the fact that recently a traveling salesman, invaded that town and sold 40,000 or 50,000 poor envelopes which the merchants bought without even an inquiry as to whether their home print shop could do the work. The Age man is not kicking but he wants fair treatment.

A LETTER FROM MISS STADE

Giving Observations While in the Twin Cities This Week—Particularly Interesting to the Ladies

St. Paul, Minn., April 4, 1905.
H. F. Michael Co.,
Brainerd, Minn.

Gentlemen:
Arrived safely and am being well taken care of. I find Miss Conklin a very pleasant lady.

We spent the day together. Upon our arrival I was stationed back of the counter. Shortly afterwards ladies came in to be fitted. I accompanied Miss Conklin to the fitting room each time and there found her an expert corset demonstrator. Tomorrow I shall do all the fitting with the exception of one of Miss Conklin's special customers.

Miss Conklin gave a lecture this afternoon and during the time fitted "Nemo" and "Smart Set" corsets on three living models, viz: A very stout figure, a medium figure and a very slight one. Was astonished how perfectly the form can be fitted with these corsets, and the ease and comfort they give the wearers. Was also much surprised to see the number of good corsets sold from $2.00 to $13.50. Ladies seem to think it economy to buy the better ones.

While in the fitting room I heard two ladies say: "I have worn this 'Nemo' five years and not a stay broken." That sounded well as I took the liberty to examine the corsets and found that no stays had been replaced.

Am more than pleased with the personal interest Miss Conklin has shown and feel confident I could not have been placed under a better demonstrator. The "Nemo" models we have selected for stock are the best sellers, especially for the stout figures. Have only had time to see a few suits but ours compare favorably with all that I have seen in both style and price.

Very truly yours,
BERTHA STADE.

NORTHERN LEAGUE

In a letter from Playing Manager W. F. White, of the St. Cloud-Brainerd baseball team, who is now at Northfield, some interesting information regarding the forming of the team is given as follows:

"This is the time of year that the heart of every baseball manager in the land is filled with fond hopes of success as bright as rosy-fingered dawn; and it is this ever recurring hope that comes with the spring-tide which makes each league race alive with new interest and uncertainty to the public and manager alike.

"A frank survey of the situation of the St. Cloud-Brainerd club will not be out of place. It cannot be denied that the youngest member of the Northern League, entering the fold at the eleventh hour, is, or rather, has been slightly handicapped. The woods had been pretty thoroughly scoured for the best available baseball material by the numerous other league clubs, but it seems that some of the best game succeeded in effectually getting to cover and it is morally certain that St. Cloud-Brainerd will discover it.

"Here is the present outlook: Pitchers, Steinhaus, Hine, Howell and Sevarier. Howell is a young giant weighing 212 pounds and standing six feet two in height. His ability is unquestioned. Two years ago he broke into professional company with the Crookston team. After winning three out of four games Lycan farmed him out, because of his youth and inexperience, to take on two widely touted pitching wonders, who proved to be gold bricks. Last year Howell pitched for Dickinson, N. D., and did phenomenal work. He will make a great record in the Northern this year and with Sevarier for another reliable man St. Cloud-Brainerd is assured of two crack pitchers. Hine and Steinhaus are both well recommended and may prove finds.

"W. P. Gilchrist, Sauk Centre's star slab artist of last year, is very anxious to sign with St. Cloud-Brainerd, but his terms are out of joint with our salary limit. The manager is looking for a clever young south-paw. About three more pitchers will be signed.

"In the catching department St. Cloud-Brainerd will be especially strong. Bourgeois will easily be the peer of anything in the Northern League in back-stop work, throwing bases and batting. He ought to head the league in batting. Rodsater is perhaps as good a back-stop as Bourgeois and he will do the bulk of the catching, letting Bourgeois play the outfield.

"At first base we are going to have a six foot three collegian, who can reach right up in the clouds and snatch down a wild throw. He is reputed to be a terrific swatter, batting a 340 gait last year. His name is Hjella.

"Second and third bases are still vacant, although the manager has a dozen applications. He is endeavoring to separate the wheat from the chaff and has one month in which to do it. Too many men for trials only add to the ante-season expenses.

"The outfield will be picked from the following: Bourgeois, Kohnke, Wing, Jack Murphy and two more. Murphy is an experienced head, fast on his feet, a good hitter and reliable fielder. He hit 280 with Bismarck last year.

"Wing is undoubtedly a clever fielder and thrower and if his batting is up to the standard will surely be a fixture.

"Kohnke is a left handed stickler and is reputed to be a slugger. He played with the fast Lennon team of St. Paul two years ago. There is no dearth of material from which to select players, the manager being in communication with some forty aspirants. He understands that Brainerd has a local third-sacker who is exceptionally fast and every opportunity will be given this man to make good.

"At the present moment it looks as though St. Cloud-Brainerd will be at the post when the starting bell rings with fully as strong an aggregation as the best in the league, and if there be any virtue in enthusiasm, determination and spirit—and there is—St. Cloud-Brainerd will give a splendid account of herself in the race. The manager absolutely insists that his players constantly employ their thinking apparatus, both on and off the field, and in the seclusion of their rooms in the endeavor to improve themselves; pick out their short comings and remedy the weaknesses with practice. With young and ambitious players the result of such procedure is a marvelous development."

It does more than that. Gloria Lung Balsam not only removes the irritation but it heals the throat and aids nature in rebuilding and restoring to health the inflamed organs of speech and breathing. It is made of healing balms and is best for children. Sold by H. P. Dunn & Co.

The Aitkin Age takes the merchants of that town to task on the question of local order houses, the Age having received in a business way two advertisements from institutions of this kind which were inserted in its columns at regular rates which led the home merchant to call on the editor and enter a protest which gave Editor Hollister the opening he was looking for, and he put it up to his home dealers in this way: "We are going to leave out these mail order ads just this week, and if our local merchants want the space they shall have the first chance (and they always have had it), but if they don't want it, we are not going to refuse out of town ads. They pay us our price and will buy all the space we have to sell."

Furthermore the Age man cites the fact that recently a traveling salesman, invaded that town and sold 40,000 or 50,000 poor envelopes which the merchants bought without even an inquiry as to whether their home print shop could do the work. The Age man is not kicking but he wants fair treatment.

The Aitkin Age takes the merchants of that town to task on the question of mail order houses, the Age having received in a business way two advertisements from institutions of this kind which were inserted in its columns at regular rates which led the home merchant to call on the editor and enter a protest which gave Editor Hollister the opening he was looking for, and he put it up to his home dealers in this way: "We are going to leave out these mail order ads just this week, and if our local merchants want the space they shall have the first chance (and they always have had it), but if they don't want it, we are not going to refuse out of town ads. They pay us our price and will buy all the space we have to sell."

Furthermore the Age man cites the fact that recently a traveling salesman invaded that town and sold 40,000 or 50,000 poor envelopes which the merchants bought without even an inquiry as to whether their home print shop could do the work. The Age man is not kicking but he wants fair treatment.

A LETTER FROM MISS STADE

Giving Observations While in the Twin Cities This Week—Particularly Interesting to the Ladies

St. Paul, Minn., April 4, 1905.

H. F. Michael Co., Brainerd, Minn.

Gentlemen:

Arrived safely and am being well taken care of. I find Miss Conklin a very pleasant lady.

Wespen the day together. Upon our arrival I was stationed back of the counter. Shortly afterwards ladies came in to be fitted. I accompanied Miss Conklin to the fitting room each time and there found her an expert corset demonstrator. Tomorrow I shall do all the fitting with the exception of one of Miss Conklin's special customers.

Miss Conklin gave a lecture this afternoon and during the time fitted "Nemo" and "Smart Set" corsets on three living models, viz: A VERY STOUT figure, a medium figure and a VERY SLIGHT one. Was astonished how perfectly the form can be fitted with these corsets, and the ease and comfort they give the wearers. Was also much surprised to see the number of good corsets sold from $2.00 to $13.50. Ladies seem to think it economy to buy the better ones.

While in the fitting room I heard two ladies say: "I have worn this 'Nemo' five years and not a stay broken." That sounded well as I took the liberty to examine the corsets and found that no stays had been replaced.

Am more than pleased with the personal interest Miss Conklin has shown and feel confident I could not have been placed under a better demonstrator. The "Nemo" models we have selected for stock are the best sellers, especially for the stout figures. Have only had time to see a few suits but ours compare favorably with all that I have seen in both style and price.

Very truly yours,
BERTHA STADE.

NORTHERN LEAGUE

In a letter from Playing Manager W. F. White, of the St. Cloud-Brainerd baseball team, who is now at Northfield, some interesting information regarding the forming of the team is given as follows:

"This is the time of year that the heart of every baseball manager in the land is filled with fond hopes of success as bright as rosy-fingered dawn; and it is this ever recurring hope that comes with the spring-tide which makes each league race alive with new interest and uncertainty to the public and manager alike.

"A frank survey of the situation of the St. Cloud-Brainerd club will not be out of place. It cannot be denied that the youngest member of the Northern League, entering the fold at the eleventh hour, is, or rather, has been slightly handicapped. The woods had been pretty thoroughly scoured for the best available baseball material by the numerous other league clubs, but it seems that some of the best game succeeded in effectually getting to cover and it is morally certain that St. Cloud-Brainerd will discover it.

"Here is the present outlook: Pitchers, Steinhaus, Hine, Howell and Sevaried. Howell is a young giant weighing 212 pounds and standing six feet two in height. His ability is unquestioned. Two years ago he broke into professional company with the Crookston team. After winning three out of four games Lycan farmed him out, because of his youth and inexperience, to take on two widely touted pitching wonders, who proved to be gold bricks. Last year Howell pitched for Dickinson, N. D., and did phenomenal work. He will make a great record in the Northern this year and with Sevaried for another reliable man St. Cloud-Brainerd is assured of two crack pitchers. Hine and Steinhaus are both well recommended and may prove finds.

"W. P. Gilchrist, Sauk Centre's star slab artist of last year, is very anxious to sign with St. Cloud-Brainerd, but his terms are out of joint with our salary limit. The manager is looking for a clever young south-paw. About three more pitchers will be signed.

"In the catching department St. Cloud-Brainerd will be especially strong. Bourgeois will easily be the peer of anything in the Northern League in back-stop work, throwing bases and batting. He ought to head the league in batting. Rodsater is perhaps as good a back-stop as Bourgeois and he will do the bulk of the catching, letting Bourgeois play the outfield.

"At first base we are going to have a six foot three collegian, who can reach right up in the clouds and snatch down a wild throw. He is reputed to be a terrific swatter, batting a 340 gait last year. His name is Hjella.

"Second and third bases are still vacant, although the manager has a dozen applications. He is endeavoring to separate the wheat from the chaff and has one month in which to do it. Too many men for trials only add to the ante-season expenses.

"The outfield will be picked from the following: Bourgeois, Kohnke, Wing, Jack Murphy and two more. Murphy is an experienced head, fast on his feet, a good hitter and reliable fielder. He hit 280 with Bismarck last year.

"Wing is undoubtedly a clever fielder and thrower and if his batting is up to the standard will surely be a fixture.

"Kohnke is a left handed stickler and is reputed to be a slugger. He played with the fast Lennon team of St. Paul two years ago. There is no dearth of material from which to select players, the manager being in communication with some forty aspirants. He understands that Brainerd has a local third-sacker who is exceptionally fast and every opportunity will be given this man to make good.

"At the present moment it looks as though St. Cloud-Brainerd will be at the post when the starting bell rings with fully as strong an aggregation as the best in the league, and if there be any virtue in enthusiasm, determination and spirit—and there is—St. Cloud-Brainerd will give a splendid account of herself in the race. The manager absolutely insists that his players constantly employ their thinking apparatus, both on and off the field, and in the seclusion of their rooms in the endeavor to improve themselves; pick out their short comings and remedy the weaknesses with practice. With young and ambitious players the result of such procedure is a marvelous development."

It does more than that.

Trials of Motherhood

393 Broad Street,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 12, 1903.

I suffered for nine years with ovarian troubles making life a burden to myself as well as to my family. During that time I had two miscarriages and although we longed for a child to bless our home this seemed impossible. I had constant racking bearing-down pains in the pelvic organs and a pulling through my limbs with frequent headaches. I felt sick at my stomach and vomited frequently and no medicine helped me until I tried Wine of Cardui.

Then my general health improved, the pains gradually lessened and after 18 weeks I was well. I am now the happy mother of a boy eighteen months old and my husband joins me in sending heartfelt thanks to you for your splendid medicine. Without it, I would have been a childless, instead of a happy and well mother.

Mrs. Frederick Nirdlinger

CHAPLAIN, ST. ANDREW'S ASSOCIATION.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui is the most successful menstrual regulator. By regulating menstruation, Wine of Cardui banishes inflammation from the entire female organism and the strengthened ligaments bring the organs back to their proper place. This is what Wine of Cardui did for Mrs. Nirdlinger. It banished the racking pains and burning inflammation and brought her relief. She was restored to health and strength and gives Wine of Cardui the credit of making her able to become a happy mother. This medicine equips a woman for every duty of wifehood and motherhood. There are many suffering women who think that health can never be theirs because they cannot secure the services of a great specialist, but we want to say right here that while Mrs. Nirdlinger lives in Philadelphia, a great medical center, she depended on Wine of Cardui for a cure and she was cured. This same medicine is within your reach. Will you take it?

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

The Reckless Hour

By IZOLA FORRESTER

Copyright, 1904, by Izola Forrester

When she came out of the theater all of the carriages had gone except one. Some one stood beside it waiting.

She stood for a moment in the lobby entrance and fastened the diamond clasp on the chiffon and lace stole around her throat. The pin had been safe enough. She had volunteered going back to the boxes for it, and had found it sticking in the velvet arm of Aunt Victoria's chair, just where she had left it.

"Did you think that I was never coming?" she asked as she reached the carriage. The figure turned quickly at the sound of her voice, and she found herself looking into Thornton's eyes. She caught her breath and stopped abruptly, startled and hesitating, afraid to let him guess the great flood of gladness that swept over her at sight of him. When one believes a person to be in Manchuria it is somewhat bewildering to meet that person alone on Broadway at 11 p. m.

He did not speak, merely opened the door for her.

"There is some mistake," she paused. "Of course there is a mistake. There always is when I come in for anything good. The fact remains that the rest have gone and that I was told to wait for you."

"Who told you to wait?"

He took her by the elbow and helped her imperiously into the carriage.

"I was with Mrs. Culverton. She was in the third box, and I was late. Then Cully came along and took her home himself. I believe your aunt told him to wait for you, but he wanted to go directly home, so I took his place. You don't believe me?"

"Oh, yes, I do. At least I believe part of it. You always twist the truth and the fairy tale together so perfectly one can only guess at which is which. I believe that Mr. Culverton was asked to wait for me."

Thornton ignored the discrimination. He was gazing intently at the pale young face. It must be true all he had heard at the club. She did not look happy. It was Vic Wilmington's affair, the digging up of Estevan. She always had some two-for-a-penny title tagging after her. It was only three weeks off now. The thought brought with it a flash of recklessness. They would have her for a lifetime. Tonight for one short half hour she was his. He leaned toward her suddenly.

"Gladys, are you sorry to see me?"

"Don't." Her eyes met his in half defiant entreaty. "It isn't fair."

"Fair to whom?"

"To him."

Thornton's jaws squared aggressively.

"He hasn't anything to say about it yet. You needn't be frightened. The wolf won't eat you. Won't they even let you be glad or sorry?"

"Don't; please, please don't."

"Say you are glad to see me."

"I'm not glad to see you. You went away of your own free will. I wish you had stayed."

"Until it was over?"

"No, forever!" she retorted passionately. "I never wanted to see you again."

He smiled. It was Gladys's way to make one last final charge when she knew she had lost the day.

"You never wanted to see me again," he repeated, "because you are going to marry a man for whom you don't care a snap of your finger, and you did love me."

"I did not." She faced him with proud, hurt eyes and flushed cheeks.

He laughed with a riotous sense of happiness in her pain. If he still had the power to hurt her there was hope. It was the reckless hour.

"You did, sweetheart, and you do now, and you always will. You know you will. Manchuria or the moon, it won't make any difference, not if you marry a hundred times, not if it's years before we meet. I can always come back like this and look in your eyes like this and see love in them like this."

She met his steady gaze, defiantly at first, then in open confession, as he said, and before he knew it she had covered her face with her hands and was crying. He felt suddenly helpless and ashamed.

"Gladys, don't do that. I'm a brute, dear. I'm sorry. I won't say another word. I'm going back this week. Stop, dear. Gladys!"

He deliberately drew her hands away from her face. It was a dear face. He had carried its memory with him around the world and it had brought him back to the starting point. He had been poor—not decently, openly poor, but living on hope and blue sky and terrapin. There was another Darby Thornton who bestowed spasmodically unexpected and irregular checks on an underserving grandson, also advice and admonitions. The weight of gratitude had become too trying. Darby had never been able to even up the balance between the acceptance of the checks and the following out of the good advice and the admonitions.

He had thought that Gladys had known he was next of kin to Job's turkey. Everybody else did. He did not mind. In a way it rendered him harmless with undesirable parties so far as matrimonial intentions were concerned. But Gladys was desirable. He had known that she loved him. He had left the day after the accident. It had been her frank betrayal then that had shown him his course for her sake. They had been on the train with a party bound for the Whitney place at Rosemead. There had been an accident in the tunnel to the train ahead, and the one they were on crashed into the rear cars. In the darkness there had come the sudden jolt and jar of grinding brakes. Some people came in a headlong rush from the front cars, and a woman's scream rang out shrilly above all. He had just stopped beside Gladys's seat to speak with her, and she was laughing up at him when the collision came. It was over in an instant. All he knew was the vivid sense of her arms clinging around his neck as he caught her up out of the seat and their lips had met for the first time with death three car lengths away.

He had left Rosemead that night. It was all he could do. He thought she would understand. If not, there was no danger but Mrs. Wilmington would enlighten her.

The Manchuria business had been an opening held out by the old Darby Thornton for some time. It was a chance to make good by going out there and clearing up the old boy's mercantile interests before the war broke out. He had stuck to it and made good, and the reward had come most unexpectedly when said old boy had taken a notion to die comfortably and opportunely and leave his accumulated possessions to the prodigal in the far land.

There had been no thought during the year of work but of Gladys. He had left on the first boat for home to claim the promise of the tunnel kiss and had found instead Estevan, a warranted imported antique, tall, suave and slightly gray, with an eye out for ready money.

The thought of it all made him desperate tonight. He put her from him almost roughly. In three weeks she would be the Countess Estevan, chateau of some dainty little old castle-lord in Austria. He was sorry that he had tried to see her, sorry he had come back, sorry he had made Culverton change places with him.

"You had better stop crying," he said. "We'll be there in a few minutes. Estevan might not like it."

She smiled back at him, her eyes bright with tears.

"So you try to frighten the bad little girl into good behavior? Well, she doesn't scare worth a cent, Darby. Your boggy man is such a fragile, proper, tissue paper boggy man that the bad little girl has decided he isn't worth being afraid of."

"What do you mean?"

"Can't you guess? You expect others to be so good at guessing, you know. You expect to kiss a girl and go away to Manchuria—or was it the moon—and then come back and find love in her eyes. What was it? Like this?"

She was laughing at him. He felt angry and obstinate.

"Can you say that you never loved me?"

"No, I cannot." Her eyes met his with calm, defensive candor. "Of course I loved you. Do you think I would have kissed you that day if I had not? And you are right about the other too. I shall always love you."

He bent toward her with keen, half shut eyes.

"And yet in three weeks you will be his wife."

"No, I won't. Do you think I could—after tonight? I shall break the engagement tonight. You have accomplished that at least. Now, take the first boat back to Manchuria."

He smiled slowly and happily. She had not heard yet of the accumulated possessions.

"We've turned out of the park," he said. "I don't want to go to the house and face a crowd. Gladys, look at me. No, straight in the eyes, please! Try to think quickly. I've come all the way around the world to see you. I've always wanted you, you know that. I was afraid before, and I ran away like a coward and didn't even give you the chance to refuse me. Will you refuse me now?"

"As if it made any difference?" Her eyes were clear and true and somewhat indignant. "If I have enough money to satisfy even Aunt Victoria and her little count, isn't there enough for you? If you go back there?"

"What?"

"I shall give away all the money and come after you?"

"Come, now?"

Her lips were half parted, her eyes wistful and troubled.

"It will be easy to come back and break the engagement then. You will only have to present your husband."

"If I dared?"

He tapped on the glass slide and gave an order to the driver, and they turned back down the avenue just as the bells were chiming midnight.

Ready For an Emergency.

The long haired woman from New Jersey came to town to do a year's shopping one day last week. Her city niece guided her through the department stores. Everywhere Aunt Jane declined to use the elevator.

"I want to walk upstairs," she said. "I want to know where the stairs are on every floor."

The niece, whose going-upstairs muscles have been atrophied by living in a flat, followed Aunt Jane's determined feet as best she could.

"But why won't you use the elevator?" she panted as they arrived at the fifth floor.

"Because I've got horse sense," said Aunt Jane. "There are 2,000 women in this store this very minute. All but nineteen of them ride in the elevators. Not fifty of them even know where the stairs are. You didn't yourself till I prowled round and found them. I'm prepared for an emergency. If a fire breaks out in any of these stores all the women will rush to the elevators. Only you and I and nineteen other women will run downstairs and get out alive. I don't trust myself in any store where I can't locate the stairs."—New York Press.

THREE MEN INSTANTLY KILLED.

Explosion Wrecks a Brick Building at Bridgeport, Conn.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 5.—In a terrific explosion that blew to pieces one of the brick buildings of the Union Metallic Cartridge company shortly before the close of the day's work, three men were instantly killed. Great crowds gathered and in the panic that followed women fainted and made frantic efforts to get within the walls surrounding the plant, as it was reported that many lives were lost. They were held in check, however, and the employees in the other buildings made their escape in safety.

The apparent horror of the situation was increased by the breaking out of fire and the appearance of ambulances and morgue wagons, which rattled up to the factory. A few moments after the explosion occurred the fire department arrived on the scene and succeeded in checking the flames quickly.

The only man in the building at the time, John Meary, was blown through the roof, with a great mass of debris, and came down dead. Two helpers, Michael Hurley and William Bayliss, working near the building, were also killed.

The explosion occurred in the dry house where primer caps are dried on long steam pipes. In some manner one of the caps was discharged and the explosion followed. The foundations of every building were shaken as if by an earthquake and the explosion was felt in houses within a radius of a mile. The loss to the company is $30,000.

The Reckless Hour

By IZOLA FORRESTER

Copyright, 1904, by Izola Forrester

When she came out of the theater all of the carriages had gone except one. Some one stood beside it waiting.

She stood for a moment in the lobby entrance and fastened the diamond clasp on the chiffon and lace stole around her throat. The pin had been safe enough. She had volunteered going back to the boxes for it, and had found it sticking in the velvet arm of Aunt Victoria's chair, just where she had left it.

"Did you think that I was never coming?" she asked as he reached the carriage. The figure turned quickly at the sound of her voice, and she found herself looking into Thornton's eyes. She caught her breath and stopped abruptly, startled and hesitating, afraid to let him guess the great flood of gladness that swept over her at sight of him. When one believes a person to be in Manchuria it is somewhat bewildering to meet that person alone on Broadway at 11 p. m.

He did not speak, merely opened the door for her.

"There is some mistake," she paused. "Of course there is a mistake. There always is when I come in for anything good. The fact remains that the rest have gone and that I was told to wait for you."

"Who told you to wait?"

He took her by the elbow and helped her imperiously into the carriage.

"I was with Mrs. Culverton. She was in the third box, and I was late. Then Cully came along and took her home himself. I believe your aunt told him to wait for you, but he wanted to go directly home, so I took his place. You don't believe me?"

"Oh, yes, I do. At least I believe part of it. You always twist the truth and the fairy tale together so perfectly one can only guess at which is which. I believe that Mr. Culverton was asked to wait for me."

Thornton ignored the discrimination. He was gazing intently at the pale young face. It must be true all he had heard at the club. She did not look happy. It was Vic Wilmington's affair, the digging up of Estevan. She always had some two-for-a-penny title tagging after her. It was only three weeks off now. The thought brought with it a flash of recklessness. They would have her for a lifetime. Tonight for one short half hour she was his. He leaned toward her suddenly.

"Gladys, are you sorry to see me?"

"Don't." Her eyes met his in half defiant entreaty. "It isn't fair."

"Fair to whom?"

"To him."

Thornton's jaws squared aggressively.

"He hasn't anything to say about it yet. You needn't be frightened. The wolf won't eat you. Won't they even let you be glad or sorry?"

"Don't, please, please don't."

"Say you are glad to see me."

"I'm not glad to see you. You went away of your own free will. I wish you had stayed."

"Until it was over?"

"No, forever!" she retorted passionately. "I never wanted to see you again."

He smiled. It was Gladys' way to make one last final change when she knew she had lost the day.

"You never wanted to see me again," he repeated, "because you are going to marry a man for whom you don't care a snap of your finger, and you did love me."

"I did not." She faced him with proud, hurt eyes and flushed cheeks.

He laughed with a riotous sense of happiness in her pain. If he still had the power to hurt her there was hope. It was the reckless hour.

"You did, sweetheart, and you do now, and you always will. You know you will. Manchuria or the moon, it won't make any difference, not if you marry a hundred times, not if it's years before we meet. I can always come back like this and look in your eyes like this and see love in them like this."

She met his steady gaze, defiantly at first, then in open confession, as he said, and before he knew it she had covered her face with her hands and was crying. He felt suddenly helpless and ashamed.

"Gladys, don't do that. I'm a brute, dear. I'm sorry. I won't say another word. I'm going back this week. Stop, dear. Gladys!"

He deliberately drew her hands away from her face. It was a dear face. He had carried its memory with him around the world and it had brought him back to the starting point. He had been poor—not decently, openly poor, but living on hope and blue sky and terrapin. There was another Darby Thornton who bestowed spasmodically unexpected and irregular checks on an underserving grandson, also advice and admonitions. The weight of gratitude had become too trying. Darby had never been able to even up the balance between the acceptance of the checks and the following out of the good advice and the admonitions.

He had thought that Gladys had known he was next of kin to Job's turkey. Everybody else did. He did not mind. In a way it rendered him harmless with undesirable parties so far as matrimonial intentions were concerned. But Gladys was desirable. He had known that she loved him. He had left the day after the accident. It had been her frank betrayal then that had shown him his course for her sake. They had been on the train with a party bound for the Whitney place at Rosemead. There had been an accident in the tunnel to the train ahead, and the one they were on crashed into the rear cars. In the darkness there had come the sudden jolt and jar of grinding brakes. Some people came in a headlong rush from the front cars, and a woman's scream rang out shrilly above all. He had just stopped beside Gladys' seat to speak with her, and she was laughing up at him when the collision came. It was over in an instant. All he knew was the vivid sense of her arms clinging around his neck as he caught her up out of the seat and their lips had met for the first time with death three car lengths away.

He had left Rosemead that night. It was all he could do. He thought she would understand. If not, there was no danger but Mrs. Wilmington would enlighten her.

The Manchuria business had been an opening held out by the old Darby Thornton for some time. It was a chance to make good by going out there and clearing up the old boy's mercantile interests before the war broke out. He had stuck to it and made good, and the reward had come most unexpectedly when said old boy had taken a notion to die comfortably and opportunely and leave his accumulated possessions to the prodigal in the far land.

There had been no thought during the year of work but of Gladys. He had left on the first boat for home to claim the promise of the tunnel kiss and had found instead Estevan, a warranted imported antique, tall, suave and slightly gray, with an eye out for ready money.

The thought of it all made him desperate tonight. He put her from him almost roughly. In three weeks she would be the Countess Estevan, chateleine of some dinky little old castellated ruin in Austria. He was sorry that he had tried to see her, sorry he had come back, sorry he had made Culverton change places with him.

"You had better stop crying," he said. "We'll be there in a few minutes. Estevan might not like it."

She smiled back at him, her eyes bright with tears.

"So you try to frighten the bad little girl into good behavior? Well, she doesn't scare worth a cent, Darby. Your boggy man is such a fragile proper, tissue paper boggy man that the bad little girl has decided he isn't worth being afraid of."

"What do you mean?"

"Can't you guess? You expect others to be so good at guessing, you know. You expect to kiss a girl and go away to Manchuria—or was it the moon—and then come back and find love in her eyes. What was it? Like this?"

She was laughing at him. He felt angry and obstinate.

"Can you say that you never loved me?"

"No, I cannot." Her eyes met his with calm, defensive candor. "Of course I loved you. Do you think I would have kissed you that day if I had not? And you are right about the other too. I shall always love you."

He bent toward her with keen, half shut eyes.

"And yet in three weeks you will be his wife."

"No, I won't. Do you think I could—after tonight? I shall break the engagement tonight. You have accomplished that at least. Now, take the first boat back to Manchuria."

He smiled slowly and happily. She had not heard yet of the accumulated possessions.

"We've turned out of the park," he said. "I don't want to go to the house and face a crowd. Gladys, look at me. No, straight in the eyes, please! Try to think quickly. I've come all the way around the world to see you. I've always wanted you, you know that. I was afraid before, and I ran away like a coward and didn't even give you the chance to refuse me. Will you refuse me now?"

"As if it made any difference?" Her eyes were clear and true and somewhat indignant. "If I have enough money to satisfy even Aunt Victoria and her little count, isn't there enough for you? If you go back there?"

"What?"

"I shall give away all the money and come after you?"

"Come, now?"

Her lips were half parted, her eyes wistful and troubled.

"It will be easy to come back and break the engagement then. You will only have to present your husband."

"If I dared!"

He tapped on the glass slide and gave an order to the driver, and they turned back down the avenue just as the bells were chiming midnight.

Ready For an Emergency.

The long haired woman from New Jersey came to town to do a year's shopping one day last week. Her city niece guided her through the department stores. Everywhere Aunt Jane declined to use the elevator.

"I want to walk upstairs," she said. "I want to know where the stairs are on every floor."

The niece, whose going-upstairs muscles have been atrophied by living in a flat, followed Aunt Jane's determined feet as best she could.

"But why won't you use the elevator?" she panted as they arrived at the fifth floor.

"Because I've got horse sense," said Aunt Jane. "There are 2,000 women in this store this very minute. All but nineteen of them ride in the elevators. Not fifty of them even know where the stairs are. You didn't yourself till I prowled round and found them. I'm prepared for an emergency. If a fire breaks out in any of these stores all the women will rush to the elevators. Only you and I and nineteen other women will run downstairs and get out alive. I don't trust myself in any store where I can't locate the stairs."—New York Press.

THREE MEN INSTANTLY KILLED.

Explosion Wrecks a Brick Building at Bridgeport, Conn.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 5.—In a terrific explosion that blew to pieces one of the brick buildings of the Union Metallic Cartridge company shortly before the close of the day's work, three men were instantly killed. Great crowds gathered and in the panic that followed women fainted and made frantic efforts to get within the walls surrounding the plant, as it was reported that many lives were lost. They were held in check, however, and the employees in the other buildings made their escape in safety.

The apparent horror of the situation was increased by the breaking out of fire and the appearance of ambulances and morgue wagons, which rattled up to the factory. A few moments after the explosion occurred the fire department arrived on the scene and succeeded in checking the flames quickly.

The only man in the building at the time, John Meary, was blown through the roof, with a great mass of debris, and came down dead. Two helpers, Michael Hurley and William Bayless, working near the building, were also killed.

The explosion occurred in the dry house where primer caps are dried on long steam pipes. In some manner one of the caps was discharged and the explosion followed. The foundations of every building were shaken as if by an earthquake and the explosion was felt in houses within a radius of a mile. The loss to the company is $30,000.

WILL GO TO PRISON FOR LIFE.

Wisconsin Wife Murderer Asks Permission to Plead Guilty.

Appleton, Wis., April 5.—Xavier Przybilinski during the day petitioned the circuit court to allow him to plead guilty to the murder of his wife and to be given a life sentence in prison. At a hearing on March 1 he admitted that he beat his wife's brains out with a spade. The prisoner will be allowed to plead on April 10.

KILLS FOUR PERSONS.

Arkansas Negro Uses a Gun With Deadly Effect.

Batesville, Ark., April 5.—John Dow, a negro, at night shot dead his wife. He then turned on his wife's mother and father, killing them both. He also shot and killed Mrs. Jones, a friend of Mrs. Dow's. This tragedy resulted from Mrs. Dow's refusal to live with her husband.

Trials of Motherhood

305 Broad Street,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 12, 1903.

I suffered for nine years with ovarian troubles making life a burden to myself as well as to my family. During that time I had two miscarriages and although we longed for a child to bless our home this seemed impossible. I had constant racking bearing-down pains in the pelvic organs and a pulling through my limbs with frequent headaches. I felt sick at my stomach and vomited frequently and no medicine helped me until I tried Wine of Cardui.

Then my general health improved, the pains gradually lessened and after 13 weeks I was well. I am now the happy mother of a boy eighteen months old and my husband joins me in sending heartfelt thanks to you for your splendid medicine. Without, I would have been a childless, instead of a happy and well mother.

Mrs. Frederick Nirdlinger

CHAPLAIN, ST. ANDREW'S ASSOCIATION.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui is the most successful menstrual regulator. By regulating menstruation, Wine of Cardui banishes inflammation from the entire female organism and the strengthened ligaments bring the organs back to their proper place. This is what Wine of Cardui did for Mrs. Nirdlinger. It banished the racking pains and burning inflammation and brought her relief. She was restored to health and strength and gives Wine of Cardui the credit of making her able to become a happy mother. This medicine equips a woman for every duty of wifehood and motherhood. There are many suffering women who think that health can never be theirs because they cannot secure the services of a great specialist, but we want to say right here that while Mrs. Nirdlinger lives in Philadelphia, a great medical center, she depended on Wine of Cardui for a cure and she was cured. This same medicine is within your reach. Will you take it?

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

The Reckless Hour

By IZOLA FORRESTER

Copyright, 1904, by Izola Forrester

When she came out of the theater all of the carriages had gone except one. Some one stood beside it waiting.

She stood for a moment in the lobby entrance and fastened the diamond clasp on the chiffon and lace stole around her throat. The pin had been safe enough. She had volunteered going back to the boxes for it, and had found it sticking in the velvet arm of Aunt Victoria's chair, just where she had left it.

"Did you think that I was never coming?" she asked as he reached the carriage. The figure turned quickly at the sound of her voice, and she found herself looking into Thornton's eyes. She caught her breath and stopped abruptly, startled and hesitating, afraid to let him guess the great flood of gladness that swept over her at sight of him. When one believes a person to be in Manchuria it is somewhat bewildering to meet that person alone on Broadway at 11 p. m.

He did not speak, merely opened the door for her.

"There is some mistake," she paused. "Of course there is a mistake. There always is when I come in for anything good. The fact remains that the rest have gone and that I was told to wait for you."

"Who told you to wait?" He took her by the elbow and helped her imperatively into the carriage.

"I was with Mrs. Culverton. She was in the third box, and I was late. Then Cully came along and took her home himself. I believe your aunt told him to wait for you, but he wanted to go directly home, so I took his place. You don't believe me?"

"Oh, yes, I do. At least I believe part of it. You always twist the truth and the fairy tale together so perfectly one can only guess at which is which. I believe that Mr. Culverton was asked to wait for me."

Thornton ignored the discrimination. He was gazing intently at the pale young face. It must be true all he had heard at the club. She did not look happy. It was Vic Wilmington's affair, the digging up of Estevan. She always had some two-for-a-penny title tagging after her. It was only three weeks off now. The thought brought with it a flash of recklessness. They would have her for a lifetime. Tonight for one short half hour she was his. He leaned toward her suddenly.

"Gladys, are you sorry to see me?"

"Don't." Her eyes met his in half defiant entreaty. "It isn't fair."

"Fair to whom?"

"To him."

Thornton's jaws squared aggressively.

"He hasn't anything to say about it yet. You needn't be frightened. The wolf won't eat you. Won't they even let you be glad or sorry?"

"Don't please, please don't."

"Say you are glad to see me."

"I'm not glad to see you. You went away of your own free will. I wish you had stayed."

"Until it was over?"

"No, forever!" she retorted passionately. "I never wanted to see you again."

He smiled. It was Gladys' way to make one last final change when she knew she had lost the day.

"You never wanted to see me again," he repeated, "because you are going to marry a man for whom you don't care a snap of your finger, and you did love me."

"I did not." She faced him with proud, hurt eyes and flushed cheeks.

He laughed with a riotous sense of happiness in her pain. If he still had the power to hurt her there was hope. It was the reckless hour.

"You did, sweetheart, and you do now, and you always will. You know you will. Manchuria or the moon, it won't make any difference, not if you marry a hundred times, not if it's years before we meet. I can always come back like this and look in your eyes like this and see love in them like this."

She met his steady gaze, defiantly at first, then in open confession, as he said, and before he knew it she had covered her face with her hands and was crying. He felt suddenly helpless and ashamed.

"Gladys, don't do that. I'm a brute, dear. I'm sorry. I won't say another word. I'm going back this week. Stop, dear. Gladys!"

He deliberately drew her hands away from her face. It was a dear face. He had carried its memory with him around the world and it had brought him back to the starting point. He had been poor—not decently, openly poor, but living on hope and blue sky and terrapin. There was another Darby Thornton who bestowed spasmodically unexpected and irregular checks on an undeserving grandson, also advice and admonitions. The weight of gratitude had become too trying. Darby had never been able to even up the balance between the acceptance of the checks and the following out of the good advice and the admonitions.

He had thought that Gladys had known he was next of kin to Job's turkey. Everybody else did. He did not mind. In a way it rendered him harmless with undesirable parties so far as matrimonial intentions were concerned. But Gladys was desirable. He had known that she loved him. He had left the day after the accident. It had been her frank betrayal then that had shown him his course for her sake. He had been on the train with a party bound for the Whitney place at Rosemead. There had been an accident in the tunnel to the train ahead, and the one they were on crashed into the rear cars. In the darkness there had come the sudden jolt and jar of grinding brakes. Some people came in a headlong rush from the front cars, and a woman's scream rang out shrilly above all. He had just stopped beside Gladys' seat to speak with her, and she was laughing up at him when the collision came. It was over in an instant. All he knew was the vivid sense of her arms clinging around his neck as he caught her up out of the seat and their lips had met for the first time with death three car lengths away.

He had left Rosemead that night. It was all he could do. He thought she would understand. If not, there was no danger but Mrs. Wilmington would enlighten her.

The Manchuria business had been an opening held out by the old Darby Thornton for some time. It was a chance to make good by going out there and clearing up the old boy's mercantile interests before the war broke out. He had stuck to it and made good, and the reward had come most unexpectedly when said old boy had taken a notion to die comfortably and opportunely and leave his accumulated possessions to the prodigal in the far land.

There had been no thought during the year of work but of Gladys. He had left on the first boat for home to claim the promise of the tunnel kiss and had found instead Estevan, a warranted imported antique, tall, suave and slightly gray, with an eye out for ready money.

The thought of it all made him desperate tonight. He put her from him almost roughly. In three weeks she would be the Countess Estevan, chateaucaine of some dinky little old castellated ruin in Austria. He was sorry that he had tried to see her, sorry he had come back, sorry he had made Culverton change places with him.

"You had better stop crying," he said. "We'll be there in a few minutes. Estevan might not like it."

She smiled back at him, her eyes bright with tears.

"So you try to frighten the bad little girl into good behavior? Well, she doesn't scare worth a cent, Darby. Your boggy man is such a fragile, proper, tissue paper boggy man that the bad little girl has decided he isn't worth being afraid of."

"What do you mean?"

"Can't you guess? You expect others to be so good at guessing, you know. You expect to kiss a girl and go away to Manchuria—or was it the moon—and then come back and find love in her eyes. What was it? Like this?"

She was laughing at him. He felt angry and obstinate.

"Can you say that you never loved me?"

"No, I cannot." Her eyes met his with calm, defensive candor. "Of course I loved you. Do you think I would have kissed you that day if I had not? And you are right about the other too. I shall always love you."

He bent toward her with keen, half shut eyes.

"And yet in three weeks you will be his wife."

"No, I won't. Do you think I could—after tonight? I shall break the engagement tonight. You have accomplished that at least. Now, take the first boat back to Manchuria."

He smiled slowly and happily. She had not heard yet of the accumulated possessions.

"We've turned out of the park," he said. "I don't want to go to the house and face a crowd. Gladys, look at me. No, straight in the eyes, please! Try to think quickly. I've come all the way around the world to see you. I've always wanted you, you know that. I was afraid before, and I ran away like a coward and didn't even give you the chance to refuse me. Will you refuse me now?"

"As if it made any difference?" Her eyes were clear and true and somewhat indignant. "If I have enough money to satisfy even Aunt Victoria and her little count, isn't there enough for you? If you go back there?"

"What?"

"I shall give away all the money and come after you?"

"Come, now!"

Her lips were half parted, her eyes wistful and troubled.

"It will be easy to come back and break the engagement then. You will only have to present your husband."

"If I dared!"

He tapped on the glass slide and gave an order to the driver, and they turned back down the avenue just as the bells were chiming midnight.

Ready For an Emergency.

The long haired woman from New Jersey came to town to do a year's shopping one day last week. Her city niece guided her through the department stores. Everywhere Aunt Jane declined to use the elevator.

"I want to walk upstairs," she said. "I want to know where the stairs are on every floor."

The niece, whose going-upstairs muscles have been atrophied by living in a flat, followed Aunt Jane's determined feet as best she could.

"But why won't you use the elevator?" she panted as they arrived at the fifth floor.

"Because I've got horse sense," said Aunt Jane. "There are 2,000 women in this store this very minute. All but nineteen of them ride in the elevators. Not fifty of them even know where the stairs are. You didn't yourself till I prowled round and found them. I'm prepared for an emergency. If a fire breaks out in any of these stores all the women will rush to the elevators. Only you and I and nineteen other women will run downstairs and get out alive. I don't trust myself in any store where I can't locate the stairs."—New York Press.

THREE MEN INSTANTLY KILLED.

Explosion Wrecks a Brick Building at Bridgeport, Conn.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 5.—In a terrific explosion that blew to pieces one of the brick buildings of the Union Metallic Cartridge company shortly before the close of the day's work, three men were instantly killed. Great crowds gathered and in the panic that followed women fainted and made frantic efforts to get within the walls surrounding the plant, as it was reported that many lives were lost. They were held in check, however, and the employees in the other buildings made their escape in safety.

The apparent horror of the situation was increased by the breaking out of fire and the appearance of ambulances and morgue wagons, which rattled up to the factory. A few moments after the explosion occurred the fire department arrived on the scene and succeeded in checking the flames quickly.

The only man in the building at the time, John Meary, was blown through the roof, with a great mass of debris, and came down dead. Two helpers, Michael Hurley and William Bayliss, working near the building, were also killed.

The explosion occurred in the dry house where primer caps are dried on long steam pipes. In some manner one of the caps was discharged and the explosion followed. The foundations of every building were shaken as if by an earthquake and the explosion was felt in houses within a radius of a mile. The loss to the company is $30,000.

KILLS FOUR PERSONS.

Arkansas Negro Uses a Gun With Deadly Effect.

Batesville, Ark., April 5.—John Dow, a negro, at night shot dead his wife. He then turned on his wife's mother and father, killing them both. He also shot and killed Mrs. Jones, a friend of Mrs. Dow. This tragedy resulted from Mrs. Dow's refusal to live with her husband.

PERLEY BILL PASSES

HOUSE MEASURE GOES THROUGH THE SENATE WITH MANY VOTES TO SPARE.

REMOVES UNIVERSITY AND NORMAL SCHOOLS FROM JURISDICTION OF BOARD.

St. Paul, April 5.—The Perley bill to remove the university and normal schools from board of control supervision except as to construction of new buildings, insurance and purchase of fuel, passed the senate Tuesday by a vote of 46 to 8, and now only awaits the signature of the governor to become a law.

The passage of the bill was moved by Senator Ward and the roll called without further debate.

Senator Fitzpatrick of Winona succeeded in rescuing his bill, S. F. 379, providing for special elections in even numbered years for district and supreme court judges, and having it advanced to general orders. The victory was won by the most eloquent speech of the session.

The bill was reported by Senator Cole of the elections committee for indefinite postponement.

Senator Fitzpatrick at once took the floor, and after a brief but eloquent speech Senator Cole was won over. The senate then overwhelmingly voted to turn down the committee report and advanced the bill to general orders.

Banking Bill Advanced.

The Lund private banking bill advanced a notch in the senate. The banking committee recommended indefinite postponement. A minority report, by Senators Benson, Harrington, Buck and Thorpe, recommended advancement to general orders. The minority report was adopted, 32 to 18.

Four new bills were introduced. S. F. 497, by Senator Schaller, authorizes the railroad commission to prosecute proceedings before the interstate commerce commission when complaints are made by Minnesota citizens. S. F. 498, by Senator Calhoun, provides for the establishment of an employment bureau under the state labor commissioner in either Minneapolis, St. Paul or Duluth. S. F. 499, by Senator Durant, provides for a fine not to exceed $50 or imprisonment not to exceed ninety days for fraudulent use of log marks. S. F. 500, by Senator McNamee, provides that fire department relief associations may pay pensions not exceeding $40 a month to firemen who have served fifteen years and are at least fifty years of age.

The senate passed a resolution introduced by Senator Frater, and identical with one passed in the house petitioning congress to open for settlement 225,000 acres of Chippewa forest reserve lands.

REPORT IS PRESENTED.

House Receives That of Committee Investigating Auditor's Office.

The report of the committee on public accounts and expenditures on Public Examiner Johnson's investigation into timber trespasses and settlements under the regime of Former State Auditor Dunn and State Auditor Iverson reached the house Tuesday.

The report, which is in effect the work of Chairman Dowling, completely exonerates Former State Auditor Dunn and State Auditor Iverson from any imputation of wrong-doing, and holds that the state has not lost a dollar by the acts of these officials, so far as the committee can discover.

The report further holds that the state has been benefited under the regime of the two officials concerned. It states that while the public examiner did only what he thought was his duty, the committee is of opinion that those employed by him on the work were not specially qualified to do it. They were not acquainted, the report says, with the state timber regulations and were, naturally not infallible in their findings.

Action Is Deferred.

Action was deferred until the members can have time to read it, and until the minority has time to decide on its action. The report was agreed to by ten of the fifteen members of the committee. Three dissented and two were absent.

Campaign contributions by corporations will have a closed season all the year round if the senate concurs with the house in passing the Dorsey bill, which went through the house Monday. Dr. Dorsey of McLeod amended his bill to make it apply to only those corporations organized for pecuniary profit and subject to state supervision. A second amendment permits the giving of railroad transportation and newspaper advertising to campaign committees and candidates. Seventeen Republicans voted against the bill.

The house, without debate, passed a concurrent resolution offered by S. Swanson of Carlton, asking congress to open Northern Minnesota ceded Chippewa lands to settlement.

By permission of Governor Johnson, John Zelch introduced a new bill to prevent the fraudulent use of log marks. The applicant for a log mark must satisfy the surveyor general that he has used timber upon which he wishes to use the log mark asked for. The house passed the committee immigration bill.

ARREST WILL SOON FOLLOW.

Two Fugitives in Storey Case Said to Have Been Located.

Philadelphia, April 5.—It is authoritatively stated that two of the fugitives wanted in connection with the alleged swindling transactions of the Storey Cotton company, but whose names are not announced, have been located by the postal authorities and that their arrest will follow within the ensuing forty-eight hours. In anticipation of their arrest a number of bench warrants were issued during the day for the apprehension of persons who may be required as witnesses.

Postal Inspector Mayer, who came here from Washington at the instigation of Postmaster General Cortelyou to investigate the charge that Inspector Holden of this city had accepted $1,100 from the Storey company, has practically completed his work.

Inspector Holden admits having accepted the money as a personal loan, but claims to have repaid it within three days. The evidence in the case is in the hands of the department of justice and that department will decide whether it is sufficient to warrant the calling of a special session of the federal grand jury.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution as assisting nature in doing its work. Results in Montana.

Butte, Mont., April 5.—Municipal elections in Montana resulted generally in favor of the Democrats. In Butte John MacGinnis, the anti-trust candidate, was elected mayor, while the Democrats elected a city treasurer. In Anaconda a Democratic mayor, three Democratic aldermen and three Republican aldermen were elected. At Helena four Democrats and four Republican aldermen were elected. At Great Falls the Democratic candidate for mayor was elected.

NO HOPE FOR PEACE

EVENTS INDICATE THAT EFFORTS TO END FAR EASTERN WAR HAVE FAILED.

St. Petersburg, April 5.—The announcement that President Roosevelt has left Washington on a vacation trip is accepted here as evidence that the efforts to draw Russia and Japan into peace negotiations have come to grief for the moment. No definite explanation of exactly what happened is forthcoming, but the general impression is that Japan either declined to treat upon the Russian basis or demanded a direct avowal that there was a pacific disposition. At any rate the advocates of a continuation of the war seem secure of their position and everything indicates that the hope of an immediate change of fortune is staked on Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, whose squadron, according to the best information, is now actually on its way to meet the Japanese. The admiral is greatly encouraged by the prospects that Rojestvensky will be able to defeat Admiral Togo, owing to the splendid reports which have just arrived here from Rojestvensky.

QUIET AT THE FRONT.

Monotony Broken Only by Skirmishing of Cossacks.

Harbin, April 5.—Affairs at the front generally are quiet except for skirmishing by General Mistschenko's Cossacks.

Reports are received of the movement of a Japanese flying column northward through Manchuria in the direction of Tsitsihar.

The loss and destruction of commissariat stores at Mukden, Hussiat, Tie pass, Palyuan and Chengtufu has been a heavy deprivation to the Russian army.

PLOT AGAINST TREPOFF.

Terrorists Seek Life of the Governor General of St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, April 5.—The police during the day arrested in the Nevsky Prospect a man disguised as a carriage driver, presumably belonging to the same organization as the twelve persons who were arrested last week for supposed connection with terrorist schemes. There is little doubt that there was a plot directed against the life of Governor General Trepoft and the latest arrest indicates that the terrorists are acting on a concerted plan with auxiliaries and lookouts to aid the actual perpetrator of the assassination.

PERLEY BILL PASSES

HOUSE MEASURE GOES THROUGH THE SENATE WITH MANY VOTES TO SPARE.

REMOVES UNIVERSITY AND NORMAL SCHOOLS FROM JURISDICTION OF BOARD.

St. Paul, April 5.—The Perley bill to remove the university and normal schools from board of control supervision except as to construction of new buildings, insurance and purchase of fuel, passed the senate Tuesday by a vote of 46 to 8, and now only awaits the signature of the governor to become a law.

The passage of the bill was moved by Senator Ward and the roll called without further debate.

Senator Fitzpatrick of Winona succeeded in rescuing his bill, S. F. 379, providing for special elections in even numbered years for district and supreme court judges, and having it advanced to general orders. The victory was won by the most eloquent speech of the session.

The bill was reported by Senator Cole of the elections committee for indefinite postponement.

Senator Fitzpatrick at once took the floor, and after a brief but eloquent speech Senator Cole was won over. The senate then overwhelmingly voted to turn down the committee report and advanced the bill to general orders.

Banking Bill Advanced.

The Lund private banking bill advanced a notch in the senate. The banking committee recommended indefinite postponement. A minority report, by Senators Benson, Harrington, Buck and Thorpe, recommended advancement to general orders. The minority report was adopted, 32 to 18.

Four new bills were introduced. S. F. 497, by Senator Schaller, authorizes the railroad commission to prosecute proceedings before the interstate commerce commission when complaints are made by Minnesota citizens. S. F. 498, by Senator Calhoun, provides for the establishment of an employment bureau under the state labor commissioner in either Minneapolis, St. Paul or Duluth. S. F. 499, by Senator Durant, provides for a fine not to exceed $50 or imprisonment not to exceed ninety days for fraudulent use of log marks. S. F. 500, by Senator McNamee, provides that fire department relief associations may pay pensions not exceeding $40 a month to firemen who have served fifteen years and are at least fifty years of age.

The senate passed a resolution introduced by Senator Frater, and identical with one passed in the house petitioning congress to open for settlement 225,000 acres of Chippewa forest reserve lands.

REPORT IS PRESENTED.

House Receives That of Committee Investigating Auditor's Office.

The report of the committee on public accounts and expenditures on Public Examiner Johnson's investigation into timber trespasses and settlements under the regime of Former State Auditor Dunn and State Auditor Iverson reached the house Tuesday.

The report, which is in effect the work of Chairman Dowling, completely exonerates Former State Auditor Dunn and State Auditor Iverson from any imputation of wrong-doing, and holds that the state has not lost a dollar by the acts of these officials, so far as the committee can discover.

The report further holds that the state has been benefited under the regime of the two officials concerned. It states that while the public examiner did only what he thought was his duty, the committee is of opinion that those employed by him on the work were not specially qualified to do it. They were not acquainted, the report says, with the state timber regulations and were, naturally not infallible in their findings.

Action Is Deferred.

Action was deferred until the members can have time to read it, and until the minority has time to decide on its action. The report was agreed to by ten of the fifteen members of the committee. Three dissented and two were absent.

Campaign contributions by corporations will have a closed season all the year round if the senate concurs with the house in passing the Dorsey bill, which went through the house Monday. Dr. Dorsey of McLeod amended his bill to make it apply to only those corporations organized for pecuniary profit and subject to state supervision. A second amendment permits the giving of railroad transportation and newspaper advertising to campaign committees and candidates. Seventeen Republicans voted against the bill.

The house, without debate, passed a concurrent resolution offered by S. Swanson of Carlton, asking congress to open Northern Minnesota ceded Chippewa lands to settlement.

By permission of Governor Johnson, John Zelch introduced a new bill to prevent the fraudulent use of log marks. The applicant for a log mark must satisfy the surveyor general that he has uncut timber upon which he wishes to use the log mark asked for.

The house passed the committee immigration bill.

ARREST WILL SOON FOLLOW.

Two Fugitives in Storey Case Said to Have Been Located.

Philadelphia, April 5.—It is authoritatively stated that two of the fugitives wanted in connection with the alleged swindling transactions of the Storey Cotton company, but whose names are not announced, have been located by the postal authorities and that their arrest will follow within the ensuing forty-eight hours. In anticipation of their arrest a number of bench warrants were issued during the day for the apprehension of persons who may be required as witnesses.

Postal Inspector Mayer, who came here from Washington at the instigation of Postmaster General Cortelyou to investigate the charge that Inspector Holden of this city had accepted $1,000 from the Storey company, has practically completed his work.

Inspector Holden admits having accepted the money as a personal loan, but claims to have repaid it within three days. The evidence in the case is in the hands of the department of justice and that department will decide whether it is sufficient to warrant the calling of a special session of the federal grand jury.

$100 Reward, $100.

NO HOPE FOR PEACE

EVENTS INDICATE THAT EFFORTS TO END FAR EASTERN WAR HAVE FAILED.

St. Petersburg, April 5.—The announcement that President Roosevelt has left Washington on a vacation trip is accepted here as evidence that the efforts to draw Russia and Japan into peace negotiations have come to grief for the moment. No definite explanation of exactly what happened is forthcoming, but the general impression is that Japan either declined to treat upon the Russian basis or demanded a direct avowal that there was a pacific disposition. At any rate the advocates of a continuation of the war seem secure of their position and everything indicates that the hope of an immediate change of fortune is staked on Vice Admiral Rojstvensky, whose squadron, according to the best information, is now actually on its way to meet the Japanese. PLOT AGAINST TREPOFF.

Terrorists Seek Life of the Governor General of St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, April 5.—The police during the day arrested in the Nevsky Prospect a man disguised as a carriage driver, presumably belonging to the same organization as the twelve persons who were arrested last week for supposed connection with terrorist schemes. There is little doubt that there was a plot directed against the life of Governor General Trepoft and the latest arrest indicates that the terrorists are acting on a concerted plan with auxiliaries and lookouts to aid the actual perpetrator of the assassination.

Application for abatement of certain special taxes inuring to the city of Brainerd against the N. P. Ry. Co., on account of paving Front street, which said application was accompanied by a resolution from the city council favoring said abatement, was read and, on motion duly carried, same was granted subject to the approval of the state auditor.

On motion duly carried the chairman appointed Commissioners Erickson, Gardner and chairman a committee of three to view the route of proposed road through Secs. 1, 2 and 12, town 134, range 29, committee to meet on said proposed route May 6th next.

Jessica O'Brien

Miss Jessica O'Brien played at the First Congregational church last evening before a large and appreciative audience. The charming young pianist demonstrated truthfully what purpose and faithful labor may accomplish, and the confidence which she exhibited in her playing was the result of knowing perfectly. Miss O'Brien possesses great talent and the beauty of it is that no amount of technical work has been able to efface the player's individuality which is apparent in all of her playing. It must indeed have been a pleasure to the great instructor to have the opportunity of moulding, according to musical law, the hand and to a great extent, the interpretation of a naturally, very musical temperament. The program was a generous one consisting of 14 numbers and Miss O'Brien responded to the hearty applause following the last number.

As in all programs, some numbers seemed more pleasing to the audience than others. Four numbers by Chopin were given and of these the ballade seemed the most acceptable. The style of this piece seems peculiarly fitted to the temperament of the player.

The Reverie by Schutt was most charmingly rendered, the shading being exquisite and delicate. The last two numbers, Arabesque and Toccata, by Leschetizky, left nothing to be desired. One was drawn to the home of the composer and felt that this was in truth, his own rendition of them. All present seemed to consider the program well chosen if hearty applause is an indication.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"HAPPY HOOLIGAN."

Tomorrow morning the seat sale opens for Gus Hill's scenic and musical comedy of Happy Hooligan in which that cheerful, comic, cackinatory character is the central figure which is to be presented Friday night at Brainerd opera house. The interest in the laughable, diverting and humorous incidents, events and happenings of this comedy never ceases or flags. Undoubtedly the profuse comedy it contains has had much to do with securing popular favor and the scenes and adventitious incidents bustling in action, bristling in humor, bubbling with mirth and permeated with novelties, originality and catchy music, good costuming, and presented by a cast of artists who have all contributed to its success. They include Frank McNish, John Price, Ruby Raymond, Eva Thatcher, Charles Gramlich, Charles Saunders and Joseph Pettigill.

TOM MARKS STOCK CO.

The Tom Marks Stock company will open a week's engagement at the Brainerd opera house next Monday night. For Monday night the management will issue free ladies' ticket and every ticket bought by a gentleman will entitle the holder to a free lady's ticket. In commenting on Tom Marks and his company the Crookston Times has the following to say:

"Tom Marks, who with his excellent repertoire company is making a week's stand in Crookston, is an interesting character and one of the successful men in the business known all over the country. He came originally from Ontario, where the Marks brothers all resided, and during his stay here he has had pleasant chats with J. H. Ruettell and other friends of his youth back in Ontario.

"The company is one of the best repertoire companies on the road and gave such excellent satisfaction at Grand Forks after a week's stand that arrangements were at once made to have the company back there this fall as an attraction during fair week."

What Whiskey Costs The Drunkard.

Cure the Drink Habit With Orrine and Save Money.

Whiskey drinking does not pay. Take the lowest possible view, without counting the loss of friends, the loss of business, the loss of manhood that comes to the drunkard; consider simply the actual money paid out, and see what it costs in dollars and cents. Good authority states that nearly one third of the wages of the laboring man goes over the bar. How much are you contributing? Figure up for one month how much you take from your wife and children and pay out in exchange for drink. The total will astonish you, and you will swear off.

Will-power alone will not cure the habit. Use Orrine, the only guaranteed cure for the habit. It can be used without publicity or the loss of time. It strengthens the nerves, gives a good appetite and refreshing sleep. The cost is small, $1 per box. Orrine is sold and recommended by H. P. Dunn & Co.

The world is full of women whose daily life is one long struggle against diseases peculiar to their sex—whose days and nights are full of quiet, patient suffering. The head the seat of pain and pressure—the result of nerve depression and physical weakness brought on by uterine or ovarian trouble—the nerves on edge—inclined to laugh or cry at anything—an ever present dragging in the back, hips and limbs—a feeling of utter weariness—lassitude and despondency. To these people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are of incomparable value, having as they do the power to rebuild, to reinvigorate and resupply every organ, every nerve, every muscle with the lost energy, and to insure a complete return to health, strength and vigor again.

Mrs. John Bailey of Jackson St., Penn Yan, N. Y., says:

"I was told that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills were a great nerve medicine, and as I needed one badly, I got a box. ### Jessica O'Brien

Miss Jessica O'Brien played at the First Congregational church last evening before a large and appreciative audience. The charming young pianist demonstrated truthfully what purpose and faithful labor may accomplish, and the confidence which she exhibited in her playing was the result of knowing perfectly. Miss O'Brien possesses great talent and the beauty of it is that no amount of technical work has been able to efface the player's individuality which is apparent in all of her playing. It must indeed have been a pleasure to the great instructor to have the opportunity of moulding, according to musical law, the hand and to a great extent, the interpretation of a naturally, very musical temperament. The program was a generous one consisting of 14 numbers and Miss O'Brien responded to the hearty applause following the last number.

As in all programs, some numbers seemed more pleasing to the audience than others. Four numbers by Chopin were given and of these the ballade seemed the most acceptable. The style of this piece seems peculiarly fitted to the temperament of the player.

The Reverie by Schutt was most charmingly rendered, the shading being exquisite and delicate. The last two numbers, Arabesque and Toccata, by Leschetizky, left nothing to be desired. One was drawn to the home of the composer and felt that this was in truth, his own rendition of them. All present seemed to consider the program well chosen if hearty applause is an indication.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"HAPPY HOOLIGAN."

Tomorrow morning the seat sale opens for Gus Hill's scenic and musical comedy of Happy Hooligan in which that cheerful, comic, cackinatory character is the central figure which is to be presented Friday night at Brainerd opera house. The interest in the laughable, diverting and humorous incidents, events and happenings of this comedy never ceases or flags. Undoubtedly the profuse comedy it contains has had much to do with securing popular favor and the scenes and adventitious incidents bustling in action, bristling in humor, bubbling with mirth and permeated with novelties, originality and catchy music, good costuming, and presented by a cast of artists who have all contributed to its success. They include Frank McNish, John Price, Ruby Raymond, Eva Thatcher, Charles Gramlich, Charles Saunders and Joseph Pettingill.

TOM MARKS STOCK CO.

The Tom Marks Stock company will open a week's engagement at the Brainerd opera house next Monday night. For Monday night the management will issue free ladies' ticket and every ticket bought by a gentleman will entitle the holder to a free lady's ticket. In commenting on Tom Marks and his company the Crookston Times has the following to say:

"Tom Marks, who with his excellent repertoire company is making a week's stand in Crookston, is an interesting character and one of the successful men in the business known all over the country. He came originally from Ontario, where the Marks brothers all resided, and during his stay here he has had pleasant chats with J. H. Ruettell and other friends of his youth back in Ontario.

"The company is one of the best repertoire companies on the road and gave such excellent satisfaction at Grand Forks after a week's stand that arrangements were at once made to have the company back there this fall as an attraction during fair week."

What Whiskey Costs The Drunkard.

Cure the Drink Habit With Urine and Save Money.

Whiskey drinking does not pay. Take the lowest possible view, without counting the loss of friends, the loss of business, the loss of manhood that comes to the drunkard; consider simply the actual money paid out, and see what it costs in dollars and cents. Good authority states that nearly one third of the wages of the laboring man goes over the bar. How much are you contributing? Figure up for one month how much you take from your wife and children and pay out in exchange for drink. The total will astonish you, and you will swear off.

Will-power alone will not cure the habit. Use Urine, the only guaranteed cure for the habit. It can be used without publicity or the loss of time. It strengthens the nerves, gives a good appetite and refreshing sleep. The cost is small, $1 per box. Urine is sold and recommended by H. P. Dunn & Co.

Bloodless, Irritable, Despondent Women. Subject to All Sorts and Varieties of Nervous Troubles. Find a Positive Cure in

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

The world is full of women whose daily life is one long struggle against diseases peculiar to their sex—whose days and nights are full of quiet, patient suffering. The head the seat of pain and pressure—the result of nerve depression and physical weakness brought on by uterine or ovarian trouble—the nerves on edge—inclined to laugh or cry at anything—an ever present dragging in the back, hips and limbs—a feeling of utter weariness—lassitude and despondency. To these people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are of incomparable value, having as they do the power to rebuild, to reinvigorate and resupply every organ, every nerve, every muscle with the lost energy, and to insure a complete return to health, strength and vigor again.

Mrs. John Bailey of Jackson St., Penn Yan, N. Y., says:

"I was told that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills were a great nerve medicine, and as I needed one badly, I got a box. My nerves were very weak—I lacked ambition and strength and my heart action was very weak. I used the pills as directed and they made my nerves quiet and steady—the heart action strong and regular and the appetite good, my sleep became restful and I feel altogether like another person. I think as a remedy in female complaints as well they are grand, curing the headaches and heavy, dragging feeling rapidly and easily—this I know from experience, and I am glad to recommend them." 50c a box at dealers or Dr. A. ## You Can Feel Better at Once!

When everything seems an effort, when you feel tired most of the time, when you wake up every morning as tired as when you went to bed,—then there is something wrong.

Nature is protesting against some neglect or some abuse.

Nature protests more often against nerve neglect than any other cause.

Remember, your strength is not in your muscles—the muscles simply work when the Nerve Force tells them to.

Even your brain does not work by itself—the substance in your brain cells must have energy to do its work; this energy must be nerve force—the same great power-of-life that controls every organ of the body.

Every form of weakness, or sickness, or disease, comes from a lack of Nerve Force to keep the organs working properly.

When one speaks of "a good constitution," one simply means a strong, healthy nerve system.

When the nerve system is not strong and well-nourished, it follows inevitably that one is easily "over-worked"—easily run down—just as Mrs. Lowry describes.

"For several months my system had been run down and I felt all worn out, tired, did not feel able to get out of bed in the morning and felt just as tired when I got up as when I retired. Had no appetite and looked pale and sallow. A friend who had used Paine's Celery Compound a couple of years ago, and who recommended it very highly, induced me to try it. I felt better at once and I found that at the end of six weeks it had changed me into a well woman, and I cannot say too much in its praise. I shall take a bottle every Spring and Fall and feel sure that it is all the medicine I shall need. Very truly yours,—Mrs. Ina M. Lowry, 3109 Dunham Ave., Kansas City, Mo. (Worthy Matron Order of Eastern Star; Rec. Sec. Kansas City Friendly Aid Society.)

Paine's Celery Compound is giving new Nerve Force to thousands every day by feeding and restoring the nerves to their full strength. It never fails to build up the run down system to full, ruddy health.

Two days' treatment proves its marvelous power. You feel better at once.

Try Paine's Celery Compound to-day. Take just one dose when you go to face the hard part of the day's trials.

See how much better you feel.

See how much more easily the trials roll away.

Paine's Celery Compound feeds the nerves—restores them to their strength—gives them new power to send vitality and health to every part of your body, new courage to your heart, new animation to your brain.

Remember this—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this country has ever known, Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University.

All reputable druggists recommend and sell Paine's Celery Compound.

MUST FIGHT UNAIDED

PRUDENTIAL COMMITTEE WILL
NOT ASSIST OPPONENTS OF
ROCKEFELLER'S GIFT.

MINISTERS ISSUE STATEMENT

SAY CHURCH CANNOT AFFORD TO ACCEPT DONATION FROM
THE OIL MAGNATE.

Boston, April 5.—The committee of Congregational clergymen who are protesting against the acceptance by the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, of John D. Rockefeller's gift of $100,000, will have to conduct their crusade unassisted by the prudential committee of the American board. After a protracted conference between representatives of the protesting clergymen's committee and three members of the prudential committee, the latter refused to join with the protestants in their movement to bring before the Congregational clergy of the country the reasons advanced for or against the acceptance of the gift.

The protestants will continue their agitation indefinitely. Late at night their committee completed its statement which will be sent broadcast at once. It is addressed to the "Corporate Members of the American Board and the Ministers of Our Church."

After reciting the history of the controversy the statement, says under the caption, "The Main Issue:—

"The protest is on the conviction that the church must not stand in compromising relation to a man who in public thoughts represents methods that are repressive, dangerous and wrong. We cannot disregard the effect of the association which his name, in view of the facts that are widespread and notorious, unfortunately carries with it. The church cannot afford to enter into any relation that will weaken or discredit it in the fulfillment of its task. The main question is one of the moral prestige and power of the church."

THIRTY-SEVEN BODIES FOUND.

Believed That More Are Still in Leister Mine at Zeigler, Ill.

Carbondale, Ill., April 5.—Thirty-seven bodies of miners who lost their lives in the gas explosion at the mine of Joseph Leiter at Zeigler Monday, have been recovered and it is supposed several more bodies are in the mine. The exact number of dead will probably not be known for several days, at least not until the mine has been divested of the gas and persons permitted to enter. Among the dead is William Scott Alkinson, state mine examiner for the Seventh subdistrict, who lost his life in an attempt to perform his duties as mine inspector, and who died while trying to reach the bodies of those who were entombed. After thirty hours but little light is shed on the cause of the catastrophe. The accident is attributed to carbonic acid gas due to poor ventilation. Every body so far recovered is a blackened mass. State Inspector Alkinson was one of the best known miners of the district. He was the father of four children and was a member of the Masonic fraternity. All the mines in the Seventh subdistrict have been ordered shut down on Friday next, the day of his funeral, and special trains have been ordered so that the 10,000 miners can attend the funeral.

Joseph Leiter arrived at the shaft during the day. The coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into the cause of the disaster has so far rendered no verdict. The taking of evidence may be prolonged several days.

ENDS HIS LIFE BY SHOOTING.

Son-in-Law of Chief Justice Fuller Commits Suicide.

Chicago, April 5.—William H. Dellus, forty-seven years old, son-in-law of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller of the United States supreme court, and reputed to be a member of a titled family in Germany, shot and killed himself Monday night at his residence here.

A coroner's jury decided that the cause was despondency due to the prolonged ill health of his wife, who testified at the inquest.

Every effort was made by the family to keep the circumstances secret and no report was made to the police until Tuesday.

Dellus was employed as contracting freight agent of the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

CABLE COMPANY APPEALS.

French Concern Would Take Its Case Before Whole Venezuelan Court.

Caracas, Venezuela, April 5.—The French cable company has appealed from the decision of the president of the highest court to the entire court.

Dispatches from Caracas, dated March 31, stated that President Arana of the highest court had decided that the French Cable company had forfeited its franchise by failure to fulfill its part of the contract. The cable company brought counter suit against the government for damages sustained by the company in the Malos revolution which was suppressed. Five days were allowed the company to appeal to the entire court, whose decision is final.

In the Matter Of Elizabeth

By S. T. STERN

Copyright, 1904, by S. T. Stern

There were two Elizabeth Langhams. For fifteen years they had lived almost side by side, and neither of them had learned of the other's existence. Three hundred feet of metropolitan space and several hundred thousand dollars separated them socially and completely. The elder Miss Langham resided near the middle of the block in a plutocratic white stone mansion. At the corner of the same street in a modest flat house lived the other Elizabeth.

Though neither of them was aware of the circumstances, these two possessed one link in common. His parents knew him as James Carruthers. His clients and professional friends called him Jack, the counselor. Miss Langham knew him as her oldest and, he hoped, her best friend. Elizabeth Langham knew him as her employer.

Elizabeth Langham, often wondered that Jim had selected her from two dozen applicants for the position of stenographer in his legal establishment. A callow graduate from a business college, she had hardly hoped to gain acceptance over a score of experienced typists. The true reason—her name—she never guessed. Still Jim had no reason to regret his choice. Miss Elizabeth was neat, pretty and bright. Jim dictated to her daily, and she transcribed without an error.

Not so Miss Langham, the focus of fifty bachelor aspirations. Jim tried dictation there only once.

"Mr. Carruthers," said Miss Langham coldly, "you are taking a mean advantage of our friendship. You have no right to criticize my other friends. I am proud to number Judge Newton among my friends."

"But he's fifty if he's a day," Jim persisted.

"So shall you be, Mr. Carruthers—some day. Good night."

There were tears after Jim had taken his departure, but that Jim did not know. He did know, however, that Miss Langham had dismissed him, and he sorrowed accordingly.

"It's that fellow, Colonel Newton," he mused. "Since they've elected him a judge Elizabeth has been indifferent to me. Mrs. Judge Newton evidently sounds better to her young ears than plain Mrs. Jimmy Carruthers." So he floundered homeward in the slush of a winter evening and nursed his first great sorrow.

Sorrow maketh a sympathizer. Jimmy, blue and hopeless, became humanitarian in a week. One morning when his stenographer, Miss Elizabeth, showed him a court summons which had been served upon him, demanding that she pay the sum of $250 forthwith or suffer the entry of judgment for that amount, Jimmy simply radiated consolation. "Who is this Mme. Nellie who is suing you?"

"I never heard of her," was the response.

Jim scanned the papers closely. "Mme. Nellie," he said after he had finished, "seems to be the trade name of a being whose Christian appellation is Michael O'Malley. He says you ordered one blue dress of the value of $250. He swears that you have refused to accept it, and he sues accordingly."

"There must be some mistake. I never ordered a dress one-fourth as expensive as that. Nor have I ever laid eyes on Mme. Nellie."

"Where do you live?" he inquired. Her reply astonished him. "No. —Sixth avenue."

"Is that near Forty-seventh street?" "It is on the corner. The side street is very fashionable. This summons must be intended for some wealthy woman near by who doesn't pay her bills."

When Jim saw that the papers were signed in the name of the Hon. William Newton, Justice, his mind was made up. He told his secretary to have no fear. He was happy to show his appreciation of her faithful and long continued service.

He tried the case himself. His rival sat on his bench and glared savagely at him—at least that was Jimmy's report of the judicial attitude.

As it happened, Mme. Nellie was not present in the courtroom, having been detained elsewhere on jury duty. In his place he sent two of his assistants. One of them took the stand at once—a florid faced lady she was, who confessed amiably that she had been a dressmaker for twenty-one years and was approaching her thirtieth birthday. "It's this way, judge, yer honor," she testified glibly. "Mme. Nellie sent the dress, and she sent it back, saying it didn't fit. I didn't have nothing to do with it, but the lady in our house as did has assured me that it fitted to perfection. Mme. Nellie says Miss Langham should be compelled to pay."

At this point Jim felt called upon to explain matters. "You see," he started to say, "they've got the wrong"—

Judge Newton waved him aside. "The issue in this case is simple. Does the gown fit? That is all. I would like to ask Miss Langham a question or two. Take the stand, miss."

Miss Langham did so. "What is your name?" "Elizabeth Langham."

"Where do you live?" "No. —Sixth avenue."

"You may retire to my private chamber and don the dress. The plaintiff's experts will accompany you."

Miss Langham commenced to weep. "If you please, Judge Newton," she stammered.

ONLY ONE

The Record in Brainerd is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Brainerd citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

James Parker, carpenter, of 124 2nd Ave. N. E., Brainerd, Minn., says: "Every winter since I had the grippe I was unable to shake off its effects. My back commenced to pain me across the kidneys with a numb sort of aching which I felt always over the same spot even when lying in bed. I was also troubled with headache which I think arose from my kidneys. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. Since then I have been in much better health, have no more attacks of headache and no more backache and I regard it as quite wonderful that any remedy could bring about such a change."

On October 18, 1904, six years after Mr. Parker made the above statement, the testimony was confirmed by Mrs. Parker. She said: "Mr. Parker's statement was true in every particular, and we both feel that Doan's Kidney Pills can be relied upon to cure every form of kidney trouble. We are always glad to advise sufferers to go to H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and give them a trial."

You Can Feel Better at Once !

When everything seems an effort, when you feel tired most of the time, when you wake up every morning as tired as when you went to bed,—then there is something wrong.

Nature is protesting against some neglect or some abuse.

Nature protests more often against nerve neglect than any other cause.

Remember, your strength is not in your muscles—the muscles simply work when the Nerve Force tells them to.

Even your brain does not work by itself—the substance in your brain cells must have energy to do its work; this energy must be nerve force—the same great power-of-life that controls every organ of the body.

Every form of weakness, or sickness, or disease, comes from a lack of Nerve Force to keep the organs working properly.

When one speaks of "a good constitution," one simply means a strong, healthy nerve system.

When the nerve system is not strong and well-nourished, it follows inevitably that one is easily "over-worked"—easily run down—just as Mrs. Lowry describes.

"For several months my system had been run down and I felt all worn out, tired, did not feel able to get out of bed in the morning and felt just as tired when I got up as when I retired. Had no appetite and looked pale and hollow. A friend who had used Paine's Celery Compound a couple of years ago, and who recommended it very highly, induced me to try it. I felt better at once and I found that at the end of six weeks it had changed me into a well woman, and I cannot say too much in its praise. I shall take a bottle every Spring and Fall and feel sure that it is all the medicine I shall need. Very truly yours,—Mrs. Ina M. Lowry, 3109 Dunham Ave., Kansas City, Mo. (Worthy Matron Order of Eastern Star; Rec. Sec. Kansas City Friendly Aid Society.)

Paine's Celery Compound is giving new Nerve Force to thousands every day by feeding and restoring the nerves to their full strength. It never fails to build up the run down system to full, ruddy health.

Two days' treatment proves its marvelous power. You feel better at once.

Try Paine's Celery Compound to-day. Take just one dose when you go to face the hard part of the day's trials.

See how much better you feel.

See how much more easily the trials roll away.

Paine's Celery Compound feeds the nerves—restores them to their strength—gives them new power to send vitality and health to every part of your body, new courage to your heart, new animation to your brain.

Remember this—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this country has ever known, Prof. E. E. Phelps, of Dartmouth University.

All reputable druggists recommend and sell Paine's Celery Compound.

MUST FIGHT UNAIDED

PRUDENTIAL COMMITTEE WILL
NOT ASSIST OPPONENTS OF
ROCKEFELLER'S GIFT.

MINISTERS ISSUE STATEMENT

SAY CHURCH CANNOT AFFORD TO ACCEPT DONATION FROM
THE OIL MAGNATE.

Boston, April 5.—The committee of Congregational clergymen who are protesting against the acceptance by the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, of John D. Rockefeller's gift of $100,000, will have to conduct their crusade unassisted by the prudential committee of the American board. After a protracted conference between representatives of the protesting clergymen's committee and three members of the prudential committee, the latter refused to join with the protestants in their movement to bring before the Congregational clergy of the country the reasons advanced for or against the acceptance of the gift.

The protestants will continue their agitation indefinitely. Late at night their committee completed its statement which will be sent broadcast at once. It is addressed to the "Corporate Members of the American Board and the Ministers of Our Church." After reciting the history of the controversy the statement, says under the caption, "The Main Issue:

"The protest is on the conviction that the church must not stand in compromising relation to a man in public thoughts represents methods that are repressive, dangerous and wrong. We cannot disregard the effect of the association which his name, in view of the facts that are widespread and notorious, unfortunately carries with it. The church cannot afford to enter into any relation that will weaken or discredit it in the fulfillment of its task. The main question is one of the moral prestige and power of the church."

Not so Miss Langham, the focus of fifty bachelor aspirations. Jim tried dictation there only once.

"Mr. Carruthers," said Miss Langham coldly, "you are taking a mean advantage of our friendship. You have no right to criticize my other friends. I am proud to number Judge Newton among my friends."

"But he's fifty if he's a day," Jim persisted.

"So shall you be, Mr. Carruthers—some day. Good night."

There were tears after Jim had taken his departure, but that Jim did not know. He did know, however, that Miss Langham had dismissed him, and he sorrowed accordingly.

"It's that fellow, Colonel Newton," he mused. "Since they've elected him a judge Elizabeth has been indifferent to me. Mrs. Judge Newton evidently sounds better to her young ears than plain Mrs. Jimmy Carruthers."

So he floundered homeward in the slush of a winter evening and nursed his first great sorrow.

Sorrow maketh a sympathizer. Jimmy, blue and hopeless, became humanitarian in a week. One morning when his stenographer, Miss Elizabeth, showed him a court summons which had been served upon her, demanding that she pay the sum of $250 forthwith or suffer the entry of judgment for that amount, Jimmy simply radiated consolation. "Who is this Mrs. Nellie who is suing you?"

"I never heard of her," was the response.

Jim scanned the papers closely. "Mrs. Nellie," he said after he had finished, "seems to be the trade name of a being whose Christian appellation is Michael O'Malley. He says you ordered one blue dress of the value of $250. He swears that you have refused to accept it, and he sues accordingly."

"There must be some mistake. I never ordered a dress one-fourth as expensive as that. Nor have I ever laid eyes on Mrs. Nellie."

"Where do you live?" he inquired. Her reply astonished him. "No. —Sixth avenue."

"Is that near Forty-seventh street?"

"It is on the corner. This side street is very fashionable. This summons must be intended for some wealthy woman near by who doesn't pay her bills."

When Jim saw that the papers were signed in the name of the Hon. William Newton, justice, his mind was made up. He told his secretary to have no fear. He was happy to show his appreciation of her faithful and long continued service.

He tried the case himself. His rival sat on his bench and glared savagely at him—at least that is Jimmy's report of the judicial attitude.

As it happened, Mrs. Nellie was not present in the courtroom, having been detained elsewhere on jury duty. In his place he sent two of his assistants. One of them took the stand at once—a florid faced lady she was, who confessed amiably that she had been a dressmaker for twenty-one years and was approaching her thirtieth birthday. "It's this way, judge, yer honor," she testified glibly. "Mrs. Nellie sent the dress, and she sent it back, saying it didn't fit. I didn't have nothing to do with it, but the lady in our house as did has assured me that it fitted to perfection. Mrs. Nellie says Miss Langham should be compelled to pay."

At this point Jim felt called upon to explain matters. "You see," he started to say, "they've got the wrong"—

Judge Newton waved him aside. "The issue in this case is simple. Does the gown fit? That is all. I would like to ask Miss Langham a question or two. Take the stand, miss."

Miss Langham did so.

"What is your name?"

"Elizabeth Langham."

"Where do you live?"

"No. —Sixth avenue."

"You may retire to my private chamber and don the dress. The plaintiff's experts will accompany you."

Miss Langham commenced to weep. "If you please, Judge Newton," she stammered.

THIRTY-SEVEN BODIES FOUND.

Believed That More Are Still in Leiter Mine at Zeigler, Ill.

Carbondale, Ill., April 5.—Thirty-seven bodies of miners who lost their lives in the gas explosion at the mine of Joseph Leiter at Zeigler Monday, have been recovered and it is supposed several more bodies are in the mine. The exact number of dead will probably not be known for several days, at least not until the mine has been divested of the gas and persons permitted to enter. Among the dead is William Scott Alkinson, state mine examiner for the Seventh subdistrict, who lost his life in an attempt to perform his duties as mine inspector, and who died while trying to reach the bodies of those who were entombed. After thirty hours but little light is shed on the cause of the catastrophe. The accident is attributed to carbonic acid gas due to poor ventilation. Every body so far recovered is a blackened mass. State Inspector Alkinson was one of the best known miners of the district. He was the father of four children and was a member of the Masonic fraternity. All the mines in the Seventh subdistrict have been ordered shut down on Friday next, the day of his funeral, and special trains have been ordered so that the 10,000 miners can attend the funeral.

Joseph Leiter arrived at the shaft during the day. The coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into the cause of the disaster has so far rendered no verdict. The taking of evidence may be prolonged several days.

ENDS HIS LIFE BY SHOOTING.

Son-in-Law of Chief Justice Fuller Commits Suicide.

Chicago, April 5.—William H. Deltus, forty-seven years old, son-in-law of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller of the United States supreme court, and reputed to be a member of a titled family in Germany, shot and killed himself Monday night at his residence here.

A coroner's jury decided that the cause was despondency due to the prolonged ill health of his wife, who testified at the inquest.

Every effort was made by the family to keep the circumstances secret and no report was made to the police until Tuesday.

Deltus was employed as contracting freight agent of the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

CABLE COMPANY APPEALS.

French Concern Would Take Its Case Before Whole Venezuelan Court.

Caracas, Venezuela, April 5.—The French cable company has appealed from the decision of the president of the highest court to the entire court.

Dispatches from Caracas, dated March 31, stated that President Arana of the highest court had decided that the French Cable company had forfeited its franchise by failure to fulfill its part of the contract. The cable company brought counter suit against the government for damages sustained by the company in the Malos revolution which was suppressed. Five days were allowed the company to appeal to the entire court, whose decision is final.

In the Matter Of Elizabeth

By S. T. STERN

Copyright, 1904, by S. T. Stern

There were two Elizabeth Langhams. For fifteen years they had lived almost side by side, and neither of them had learned of the other's existence. Three hundred feet of metropolitan space and several hundred thousand dollars separated them socially and completely. The elder Miss Langham resided near the middle of the block in a plutocratic white stone mansion. At the corner of the same street in a modest flat house lived the other Elizabeth.

Though neither of them was aware of the circumstances, these two possessed one link in common. His parents knew him as James Carruthers. His clients and professional friends called him Jack, the counselor. Miss Langham knew him as her oldest and, he hoped, her best friend. Elizabeth Langham knew him as her employer.

Elizabeth Langham, often wondered that Jim had selected her from two dozen applicants for the position of stenographer in his legal establishment. A callow graduate from a business college, she had hardly hoped to gain acceptance over a score of experienced typists. The true reason—her name—she never guessed. Still Jim had no reason to regret his choice. Miss Elizabeth was neat, pretty and bright. Jim dictated to her daily, and she transcribed without an error.

Not so Miss Langham, the focus of fifty bachelor aspirations. Jim tried dictation there only once.

"Mr. Carruthers," said Miss Langham coldly, "you are taking a mean advantage of our friendship. You have no right to criticize my other friends. I am proud to number Judge Newton among my friends."

"But he's fifty if he's a day," Jim persisted.

"So shall you be, Mr. Carruthers—some day. Good night."

There were tears after Jim had taken his departure, but that Jim did not know. He did know, however, that Miss Langham had dismissed him, and he sorrowed accordingly.

"It's that fellow, Colonel Newton," he mused. "Since they've elected him a judge Elizabeth has been indifferent to me. Mrs. Judge Newton evidently sounds better to her young ears than plain Mrs. Jimmy Carruthers."

The Record in Brainerd is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Brainerd citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

James Parker, carpenter, of 124 2nd Ave. N. E., Brainerd Minn., says: "Every winter since I had the gripe I was unable to shake off its effects. My back commenced to pain me across the kidneys with a numb sort of aching which I felt always over the same spot even when lying in bed. I was also troubled with headache which I think arose from my kidneys. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. Since then I have been in much better health, have no more attacks of headache and no more backache and I regard it as quite wonderful that any remedy could bring about such a change."

On October 18, 1904, six years after Mr. Parker made the above statement, the testimony was confirmed by Mrs. Parker. She said: "Mr. Parker's statement was true in every particular, and we both feel that Doan's Kidney Pills can be relied upon to cure every form of kidney trouble. We are always glad to advise sufferers to go to H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and give them a trial."

THIRTY-SEVEN BODIES FOUND.

Among the dead is William Scott Alkinson, state mine examiner for the Seventh subdistrict, who lost his life in an attempt to perform his duties as mine inspector, and who died while trying to reach the bodies of those who were entombed. After thirty hours but little light is shed on the cause of the catastrophe. The accident is attributed to carbonic acid gas due to poor ventilation. Every body so far recovered is a blackened mass. State Inspector Alkinson was one of the best known miners of the district. He was the father of four children and was a member of the Masonic fraternity. All the mines in the Seventh subdistrict have been ordered shut down on Friday next, the day of his funeral, and special trains have been ordered so that the 10,000 miners can attend the funeral.

Joseph Leiter arrived at the shaft during the day. The coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into the cause of the disaster has so far rendered no verdict. The taking of evidence may be prolonged several days.

ENDS HIS LIFE BY SHOOTING.

Son-in-Law of Chief Justice Fuller Commits Suicide.

Chicago, April 5.—William H. Delius, forty-seven years old, son-in-law of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller of the United States supreme court, and reputed to be a member of a titled family in Germany, shot and killed himself Monday night at his residence here.

A coroner's jury decided that the cause was despondency due to the prolonged ill health of his wife, who testified at the inquest.

Every effort was made by the family to keep the circumstances secret and no report was made to the police until Tuesday.

Delius was employed as contracting freight agent of the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

CABLE COMPANY APPEALS.

French Concern Would Take Its Case Before Whole Venezuelan Court.

Caracas, Venezuela, April 5.—The French cable company has appealed from the decision of the president of the highest court to the entire court.

Dispatches from Caracas, dated March 31, stated that President Arana of the highest court had decided that the French cable company had forfeited its franchise by failure to fulfill its part of the contract. The cable company brought counter suit against the government for damages sustained by the company in the Malos revolution which was suppressed. Five days were allowed the company to appeal to the entire court, whose decision is final.

In the Matter Of Elizabeth

By S. T. STERN

Copyright, 1904, by S. T. Stern

There were two Elizabeth Langhams. For fifteen years they had lived almost side by side, and neither of them had learned of the other's existence. Three hundred feet of metropolitan space and several hundred thousand dollars separated them socially and completely. The elder Miss Langham resided near the middle of the block in a plutocratic white stone mansion. At the corner of the same street in a modest flat house lived the other Elizabeth.

Though neither of them was aware of the circumstances, these two possessed one link in common. His parents knew him as James Carruthers. His clients and professional friends called him Jack, the counselor. Miss Langham knew him as her oldest and, he hoped, her best friend. Elizabeth Langham knew him as her employer.

Elizabeth Langham, often wondered that Jim had selected her from two dozen applicants for the position of stenographer in his legal establishment. A callow graduate from a business college, she had hardly hoped to gain acceptance over a score of experienced typists. The true reason—her name—she never guessed. Still Jim had no reason to regret his choice. Miss Elizabeth was neat, pretty and bright. Jim dictated to her daily, and she transcribed without an error.

Not so Miss Langham, the focus of fifty bachelor aspirations. Jim tried dictation there only once.

"Mr. Carruthers," said Miss Langham coldly, "you are taking a mean advantage of our friendship. You have no right to criticize my other friends. I am proud to number Judge Newton among my friends."

"But he's fifty if he's a day," Jim persisted.

"So shall you be, Mr. Carruthers—some day. Good night."

There were tears after Jim had taken his departure, but that Jim did not know. He did know, however, that Miss Langham had dismissed him, and he sorrowed accordingly.

"It's that fellow, Colonel Newton," he mused. "Since they've elected him a judge Elizabeth has been indifferent to me. Mrs. Judge Newton evidently sounds better to her young ears than plain Mrs. Jimmy Carruthers." So he floundered homeward in the slush of a winter evening and nursed his first great sorrow.

Sorrow maketh a sympathizer. Jimmy, blue and hopeless, became humanitarian in a week. One morning when his stenographer, Miss Elizabeth, showed him a court summons which had been served upon her, demanding that she pay the sum of $250 forthwith or suffer the entry of judgment for that amount, Jimmy simply radiated consolation. "Who is this Mrs. Nellie who is suing you?"

"I never heard of her," was the response.

Jim scanned the papers closely. "Mrs. Nellie," he said after he had finished, "seems to be the trade name of a being whose Christian appellation is Michael O'Malley. He says you ordered one blue dress of the value of $250. He swears that you have refused to accept it, and he sues accordingly."

"There must be some mistake. I never ordered a dress one-fourth as expensive as that. Nor have I ever laid eyes on Mrs. Nellie."

"Where do you live?" he inquired. Her reply astonished him. "No. — Sixth avenue."

"Is that near Forty-seventh street?" "It is on the corner. The side street is very fashionable. This summons must be intended for some wealthy woman near by who doesn't pay her bills."

When Jim saw that the papers were signed in the name of the Hon. William Newton, justice, his mind was made up. He told his secretary to have no fear. He was happy to show his appreciation of her faithful and long continued service.

He tried the case himself. His rival sat on his bench and glared savagely at him—at least that is Jimmy's report of the judicial attitude.

As it happened, Mrs. Nellie was not present in the courtroom, having been detained elsewhere on jury duty. In his place he sent two of his assistants. One of them took the stand at once—a florid faced lady she was, who confessed amiably that she had been a dressmaker for twenty-one years and was approaching her thirtieth birthday. "It's this way, Judge, yer honor," she testified glibly. "Mrs. Nellie sent the dress, and she sent it back, saying it didn't fit. I didn't have nothing to do with it, but the lady in our house as did has assured me that it fitted to perfection. Mrs. Nellie says Miss Langham should be compelled to pay."

At this point Jim felt called upon to explain matters. "You see," he started to say, "they've got the wrong"—Judge Newton waved him aside. "The issue in this case is simple. Does the gown fit? That is all. I would like to ask Miss Langham a question or two. Take the stand, miss."

Miss Langham did so. "What is your name?" "Elizabeth Langham."

"Where do you live?"

"No. — Sixth avenue."

"You may retire to my private chamber and don the dress. The plaintiff's experts will accompany you."

Miss Langham commenced to weep. "If you please, Judge Newton," she stammered.

ONLY ONE

The Record in Brainerd is a Unique One.

If the reader has a "bad back" or any kidney ill and is looking for relief and cure, better depend on the only remedy endorsed by people you know. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve quickly—cure permanently. Brainerd citizens testify to this. Here is a case of it:

James Parker, carpenter, of 121 2nd Ave. N. E., Brainerd Minn., says: "Every winter since I had the grippe I was unable to shake off its effects. My back commenced to pain me across the kidneys with a numb sort of aching which I felt always over the same spot even when lying in bed. I was also troubled with headache which I think arose from my kidneys. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. Since then I have been in much better health, have no more attacks of headache and no more backache and I regard it as quite wonderful that any remedy could bring about such a change."

On October 18, 1904, six years after Mr. Parker made the above statement, the testimony was confirmed by Mrs. Parker. She said: "Mr. Parker's statement was true in every particular, and we both feel that Doan's Kidney Pills can be relied upon to cure every form of kidney trouble. We are always glad to advise sufferers to go to H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and give them a trial."
